EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Street vendors constitute a substantial portion of the informal, unorganised sector that provides affordable goods and services. Their economic and social contributions are an integral part of the cityscape, yet their livelihood remains vulnerable.

India’s Street Vendors (Protection of Livelihood and Regulation of Street Vending) Act 2014 is historic and has culminated from a long struggle by groups country-wide. The Street Vendors Act offered hope regarding ‘ease of doing business’ for street vendors and in protecting their right to a dignified livelihood. However, five years since the Act was enacted the struggle for survival continues and protection from vulnerabilities remains a challenge. While the Act has been passed by the Central Government, the onus of implementation is on States and Union Territories (UTs). Each State and UT was mandated to form Rules and Schemes towards implementation of the Act within one year of its enactment.

However, as of 1 July 2019, out of 29 states the following two—Nagaland and Telangana—are yet to publish their State Rules. Of the seven UTs, the following four—Andaman and Nicobar Islands, Dadra and Nagar-Haveli, Daman and Diu and Puducherry— are yet to publish their Rules. A special discussion is required on the State of Jammu and Kashmir as the Act is not applicable there. However, it can adapt a scheme which is appropriate to a State situation.

This report attempts to analyse the published Rules of 24 States/UTs (defined in the Act as ‘appropriate Government’) against the provisions mandated in the Street Vendors Act and the Model Rules. The process for drafting Model Rules started in 2015 by civil society organisations such as Alternative Law Forum (ALF), National Hawker Federation (NHF) and Human Rights Law Network (HRLN) and included meetings with street vendors, trade unions, people’s movements, labour commissioners and non-government organisations (NGOs) in 10 states. The Model Rules were finalised and submitted to the Urban Secretary in the Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs in 2016 after multiple rounds and deliberations and discussions with all stakeholders involved. The Model Rules are provided in the Annexures.

This report draws on the fact that the Street Vendors Act, an outcome of participatory deliberation and negotiation by street vendor federations, academics and civil society organisations, needs to be adequately implemented by States as per the core provisions mentioned in the Act. The analysis of the Act and its implementation status helps understand the possible impacts of State Rules on the overall implementation of the parent Act.

THE PARENT ACT AND STATE/UT SCOPE OF AMENDMENTS AND IMPLEMENTATION

As per the Parent Act, State/UT Governments are responsible for the following:

- To approve the plan (to promote vocation of street vending) and determine norms applicable to street vendors (Section 21.2).
- To promote measures to make available credit, insurance and other welfare schemes (Section 31), organise capacity building programmes for street vendors (Section 32.a).
• To promote research, education and training programmes for understanding the role of the informal sector (particularly street vendors) and raising awareness among the public with the help of the Town Vending Committee (TVC) (Section 32.2).
• To delegate powers (except the power to make Rules and Schemes) to local authorities or the TVC (Section 34).
• To make Rules within one year of passing of the Parent Act (Section 36.1).
• To frame a scheme as per second schedule of the Act within 6 months of passing of the Parent Act (Section 38.1)

As per the Parent Act, the scope of States/UTs to amend Rules extends to the following provisions:

• Notify age of vending as 14 years or as prescribed by them (Section 4.1).
• Clarify mechanism to appeal against TVC’s decision regarding Certificate of Vending (issuing, suspension, cancellation etc. as per Section 11.1)
• Detail mechanisms for setting up Dispute Redressal Committee (DRC) and
  - Its members (professionals) and their qualifications/experience (Section 20.1)
  - Form and manner of making DRC as well as an application process to approach the DRC (Section 20.2)
• Manner and time period of verification and inquiry by DRC (Section 20.3)
• Manner of appeal against DRC decision to local authority (Section 20.4)
• Manner and time period of disposing off the appeal (Section 20.5)
• Detail mechanisms for the TVC, especially
  - Terms and manner of constitution in each local authority (Section 22.1)
  - Nomination of TVC members by the local authority (Section 22.2.b)
  - Manner of electing street vendors’ representatives to the TVC (Section 22.2.d)
  - Allowance to TVC members (Section 22.3) and to persons temporarily associated with the TVC (Section 24.2)
  - TVC meeting frequency (Section 23.1)
  - Place of meeting within urban local body (ULB) jurisdiction, Rules of procedure for transaction of business of TVC meetings, manner and purpose of temporary association of persons with TVC (Section 24.1)
  - Office space and employees to be provided by the local authority to the TVC (Section 25)
  - Returns to be furnished by the TVC and time of returning to furnish (Section 30)
• Updated record of street vendors and Certificate of Vending format (Section 26.2)
• Manner of publishing the summary of the scheme (Section 38.2)

ACT IMPLEMENTATION STATUS ACROSS STATES/UTS

While States/UTs have the freedom to formulate Rules as per their regulations, issues and concerns about Rules formulated persist. The report details these concerns state- and UT-wise in subsequent sections. Broadly, the nature of concerns include the following:

The Minimum Age of Vending: As per Section 4.1 of the parent Act, the minimum age of vending is 14 years. However, States can technically prescribe different minimum age limits. In the Rules of ten states—Assam, Andhra Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Goa, Gujarat, Haryana, Punjab, Rajasthan, Sikkim and West Bengal—the minimum age of vending has been prescribed as 18 years. However, eleven States—Delhi, Himachal Pradesh, Kerala, Maharashtra, Manipur, Meghalaya, Odisha, Tamil Nadu, Tripura, Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand and Union territories of Chandigarh and Lakshadweep have not mentioned any minimum age. The Child and Adolescent Labour (Prohibition and Regulation) Act of 1986 defines a ‘child’ as any person below the age of 14 years, and the Act prohibits the employment of a child in any employment, including as a domestic help (except... helping own family in non-hazardous occupations.
This provision was taken into consideration as the civil society gave its input for the formation of the Parent Act.

State-Wise Dispute Redressal Mechanisms:
Section 20 of the Act provides for redressal of grievances or resolution of disputes of street vendors via ‘one or more committees’ constituted by a retired civil judge or judicial magistrate as Chairperson and two other professionals having relevant experience as prescribed by the appropriate authority.

The State Rules of Kerala and Tripura have provision for a Dispute Redressal Committee (DRC) only in the capital city. Uttar Pradesh has provision for a grievance redressal committee but the details about the composition of its members and manner of filing complaints is not clearly mentioned in the Rules. Tamil Nadu State Rules have a provision of INR 500 application fee to approach the DRC, an expensive sum for street vendors. In Meghalaya Rule 15(ii) states that, ‘Provided that the appeal may also be summarily rejected on valid grounds in the first instance and to be spelt out in the form of speaking order’. This should be amended and a written decision should be given to the vendor as oral decision making may be open to misuse.

State Rules which do not mention the DRC are Assam, Andhra Pradesh, Bihar, Chhattisgarh, Chhattisgarh, Delhi, Goa, Gujarat, Haryana, Himachal Pradesh, Lakshadweep, Maharashtra, Manipur, Odisha, Punjab, Rajasthan, Sikkim, Uttarakhand and West Bengal.

Terms and Manner of Constituting the Town Vending Committee (TVC):
To ensure that the decision making power is not left to the sole discretion of any civic or police authority but is accomplished by a participatory process, Section 22 of the Act provides for the constitution of a Town Vending Committee (TVC) formed by representatives of street vendors, planners, police, local councillors, resident welfare associations, traders associations and municipal functionaries. Section 22.2.d of the Act says there should be at least 40 per cent representatives of street vendors in the TVC. However, some states like Meghalaya and Odisha do not provide for adequate representation of street vendors in the TVC.

Section 22.2.d of the Act also mentions that street vendors shall elect their representatives in such manner as prescribed. However, some states have a nomination process for selecting street vendors’ representatives while some have a selection process; others mention the process of election with lottery system or by show of hands.

TVC Meeting Frequency and Quorum:
As per Rules of some States and UTs, TVCs meet on a quarterly basis (in Bihar, Chhattisgarh, Delhi, Haryana, Maharashtra, Manipur, Meghalaya, Rajasthan, Sikkim, Tamil Nadu, Tripura, Uttar Pradesh, Chandigarh and Lakshadweep), whereas in some other states (such as Gujarat and Punjab) they meet on a half-yearly basis. TVCs in Kerala and Goa meet once every two months. The State Rules of Assam, Andhra Pradesh, Odisha, Uttarakhand and West Bengal do not mention the frequency of the TVC meeting.

The quorum for the meeting has been mentioned in some States as one-third or one-fourth the total strength of the TVC. The minutes of meetings are usually signed by the Chairperson of the TVC and not all the TVC members. Most States also lack any provision regarding the special meeting which can be called on the request of TVC members (say by one-third members).

Local Authority Support to the TVC:
Section 25 of the Act says that the local authority shall provide for office space and for the required staff to the TVC. But some State Rules only mention about the office space, while some lack clarity regarding infrastructure and human resource requirements of the TVC. A few states (Bihar, Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh, Kerala and West Bengal) have also mentioned that the TVC should not create any additional burden on the local authority for its infrastructure and human resource requirements.

Other Issues:
The existing State Rules are also silent on many other aspects mentioned in the parent Act such as the qualification of non-official members to the TVC, other functions of the TVC, returns to be furnished by the TVC, disqualification of the TVC member, detailed procedure for the appeal to the dispute redressal committee, and so on.
STATE-WISE FINDINGS

Each State Rule has been studied in detail through the report and a summary of each is presented as follows:

1. ASSAM
The Assam Rules were notified on 26 February 2016. The major loophole in the Rules concern the ambiguity about the manner of elections, which are through nomination by street vendor associations and not by a ballot system of voting. The Rules also miss out incorporating details about other subsidiary aspects such as some of the major functions of TVCs (access to credit, social security, following up on cases, awareness programmes, etc), the qualification of non-official members, removal of TVC members and filling of vacancies, quorum for TVC meetings, returns to be furnished by the TVC, and the preparation of vending plans.

2. ANDHRA PRADESH
The Andhra Pradesh Rules were notified on 31 March 2017. The major contention with the Rules are provisions which violate the purpose of ‘protection’ of street vendors. For example, Rule 3(5), which is also present in the Central Act (Section 28), states ‘If any street vendor, who indulges in vending activities without a certificate of vending … he shall be liable to a penalty for each such offence which shall extend up to rupees two thousand only’. As the process of issuing certificates is slow and inefficient, penal provisions like this may lead to undue exploitation of vendors.

The other issue with the Rules are about the mode of formation of the TVC by election/selection, although clause (d) of sub-section (2) of Section 22 of the parent Act suggests that the street vendors shall elect their representatives among themselves. The Rules do not provide clarity on qualifications of non-official members, removal of members of DRC.

Rule 3(1)(s) has defined ‘public purpose’. The Act makes it clear [Second Schedule, Clause (n)] that public purpose is to be defined in the Scheme, by State governments in consultation with the TVC. Therefore, insertion of the definition of public purpose would be ultra vires the Act, and beyond the rule-making powers of the State.

3. BIHAR
The major contention with the State Rules is regarding the mode of selection of street vendors in the TVC, which is through selection and not election. This process is undemocratic and against the spirit of the Act. The TVC meets once every three months, with quorum one-third of TVC strength, which goes against the rational norm of two-third shown in other states, and the minutes of the meetings are only signed by the Chairperson, which should be ideally signed by all the members present in the meeting.

The Rules miss out in providing clarity on other issues such as qualification of some non-official members, removal of members of DRC and filling of vacancies. No explicit mention is made of the State undertaking welfare schemes.

4. CHANDIGARH
The Chandigarh Rules have been drafted comprehensively as it provides details on all aspects mentioned under Section 36 (Power to make Rules) of the parent Act. There are a few suggestions made regarding the frequency of meetings and resources required by the TVC, and the time for filing complaints to the DRC which should be increased from 30 to 60 days.

Though social auditing and returns to be furnished finds a mention under the functions of the TVC, the Rules do not provide a detailed explanation about how this should be conducted. It is therefore suggested that the procedure for these activities be defined under the schedule. The Rules should also provide details about the removal of TVC members.

5. CHATTISGARH
Although the Chhattisgarh Government notified the Rules shortly after one year of the commencement of the parent Act, it is one of the most poorly drafted Rules among all States, providing details only on a few aspects and leaving out key areas that need to be covered. The Rules are also vague and unclear and should be prepared again, preferably on the lines of the Model Rules provided in this report.

Major aspects are missing, such as the form and manner of making an application to the DRC, the period and manner of filing appeals with the local authority, the experience and qualifications of the DRC, the manner of verification and enquiry on receipt of grievance or dispute, the time within which and the manner in which steps for redressal of grievances and resolution of disputes may be taken, the time within which and the manner in which an appeal shall be filed and disposed off, the term and the manner of elections and conduct of the TVC, the manner of maintaining updated records of all street vendors, the returns to be furnished, the manner of publishing summary of the scheme, etc.

6. DELHI
The Delhi Rules are well-drafted and comprehensive. However, there are a few areas where amendments could be made such as the frequency of TVC meetings, the manner of documenting minutes of meetings and resources required for proper functioning of the TVC.

The Rules miss out providing clarity on other issues such as the lack of well-defined parameters in case of removal of TVC members, the provision for non-harassment of vendors and the duties of the local authority.

7. GOA
The Goa Rules were notified on 19 October 2016 in the official gazette. They provide a lucid and coherent explanation about each aspect, leaving very little or no space for ambiguity. The Rules should particularly be lauded for clearly describing the election procedure. Although the document is fairly comprehensive, there are areas of improvement.

The Rules miss out providing clarity on the frequency of TVC meetings, manner of documenting minutes and resources required for proper functioning of the TVC, qualifications of non-official members, and removal of members of the DRC. Further, the functions of the TVC does not include the need to undertake social schemes. The functions of the local authority to provide civic amenities and other facilities like cold storage does not find any mention in the Rules either.

8. GUJARAT
The Gujarat Rules were notified on 18 October 2016 by the Gujarat Government Gazette. The Rules are comprehensive and well-defined and include two features rarely found in other Rules. This includes Section 12, which requires the local authority to circulate a status paper of the street vending scenario in the city, which should help present the nuances of the profession. Rule 14 details the constitution of the sub-committee to examine any specific issue that may crop up, from time to time, and offer suggestions/recommendations on the issues referred to it.

There are merits of the Gujarat Rules but some drawbacks too. The Rules begin with defining ‘public purpose’ which, according to the parent Act, is to be defined in the Scheme by State Governments in consultation with the TVC, and therefore is ultra vires the State’s power. The other amendments needed are detailing the frequency of TVC meetings, the manner of documenting meeting minutes and resources required for proper functioning of TVCs. The Rules miss out in providing clarity on other issues, such as the removal of members of the DRC. Many promotional and social welfare/security functions of the TVC and duties of the local authority find no mention.

9. HARYANA
The Haryana Rules were notified by the Government on 31 January 2017. The Rules begin by defining ‘public purpose’, which according to the parent Act is to be defined in the Scheme by the State in consultation with the TVC.

Besides this, the Rules have many gaps that should be addressed. A major contention is that the application fee for the election is very high at INR 25,000—an unaffordable amount for most street vendors. The standard norm followed by other States in this case is INR 2,000. The other Rule against the interests of street vendors is the absence of a DRC to address difficulties faced by the street vendors. As there is no
DRC, the question of its members and appeal against the decision of the committee does not arise. The lack of commitment of the local authority is also evident by the fact that the Rules do not mention any provision to allocate resources (human and infrastructural) to the TVC for the smooth implementation of the Act. As the Rules miss important aspects and have not been defined with clarity, they should be amended in line with the Model Rules provided in this report.

10. HIMACHAL PRADESH
The Himachal Pradesh Rules were notified by the Government on 5 December 2016. One crucial aspect that the Rules have addressed is incorporating the concept of provisional TVCs (Rule 5). The role of this committee is to conduct surveys and facilitate the formation of a permanent TVC. This rule is a logical step towards the formation of the permanent TVC, which other states have missed. Hence, it should be incorporated in other states as well.

The Rules should also be lauded for Section 12, which requires the local authority to circulate a status paper of the street vending scenario in the city, which should help bring out the nuances of the profession. Rule 14 also mentions the provision for the constitution of a sub-committee to examine any specific issue that may crop up, from time to time, and offer suggestions/recommendations on the issues referred to it.

Although the Rules are defined with clarity and have certain distinct features, there are some gaps that should be addressed. To begin with, the definition of ‘public purpose’ needs to be omitted from the Rules as the Second Schedule. Clause (n) of the parent Act states that public purpose is to be defined in the Scheme, by the State Government in consultation with the Town Vending Committee. Therefore, the insertion of the definition of public purpose as Rule 2(e) would be ultra vires the Act, and beyond the rule-making powers of the State. The other issues needing clarity in the Rules include the frequency of TVC meetings, manner of documenting meeting minutes and resources required for proper functioning of TVCs.

11. KERALA
The Kerala Rules lack clarity. The manner of formation of the TVC is by selection and not through election, and DRC is only located in the capital city, making it inconvenient and unapproachable for street vendors who live in distant areas. The Rules are not comprehensive and do not have any attached schedules or templates of forms to be filled for filing nomination for election, application form for grievance redressal and dispute resolution, application form for appeal to the local authority, annual reports and other returns to be furnished by the TVC, etc. This makes the Rules inadequate.

The Rules miss out in providing clarity on other issues such as the removal of members of the TVC and the DRC, qualifications of non-official members, etc. Also missing are provisions for other social functions of the TVC like providing special schemes for the well-being of vendors (such as their social security).

12. LAKSHADWEEP
The Lakshadweep Rules were notified on 27 July 2015. Although the Rules are fairly comprehensive, there are areas of improvement that should be looked into such as the frequency of TVC meetings, the manner of documenting minutes as per the Model Rules recommendations, and the provision for calling requisition/special meeting should be added.

There is a lack of mention of duties of the local authority, such as providing cold storage, sanitation, etc.

13. MAHARASHTRA
The Maharashtra Rules were notified on 3 August 2016. The Rules are well drafted and comprehensive. A few additions and changes could be made such as the time period required to file complaints to the DRC, revision in the manner of documenting minutes as per the Model Rules recommendations, and the provision for calling requisition/special meeting should be added.

The Rules miss out providing clarity on other issues such as defining grounds for the removal of the TVC members, which are similar to the removal of a redressal committee member.
14. MANIPUR
The Manipur Rules were notified by the government on 2 May 2016. The Rules are self-explanatory and comprehensive. There are a few gaps that should be addressed, which are the frequency of TVC meetings, manner of documenting minutes, and resources required for proper functioning of the TVC. The duties of the local authority regarding civic amenities and other facilities again does not find mention, along with some other functions of the vending committee (such as awareness among vendors and following up on cases of dispute redressal).

15. MEGHALAYA
The Meghalaya Rules were notified on 19 December 2016. The major issue in the Rules is that it does not provide 40 per cent representation to street vendors in the TVC, and has failed to recognise the importance of elections. No redressal committee has been provided for in the Rules which is a necessary requirement for providing justice to the vendors and the role of urban local bodies in facilitating the welfare of street vendors is missing. The Rules are poorly drafted compared to other States.

16. ODISHA
The Odisha Rules were notified on 7 July 2015. The major issue with the Rules is that the process of constituting the TVC is not by election but selection. Further, it does not provide for 40 per cent representation of street vendors in the TVC as mandated by the Act. The Rules also miss out in mentioning social audit of the activities of the TVC as laid under the Act. Rule 6(2)(e) determines the monthly rental (fee) payable by the street vendor. Ideally, the street vendor should not be charged monthly rental and should only have to pay for the Certificate of Vending as done elsewhere. The Rules seem poorly drafted compared to other States.

17. PUNJAB
The Punjab Rules were notified on 12 February 2015. The Rules are problematic due to issues with the election process, as it is by show of hands and not through the ballot process. The other concerns include the age of vending, absence of some functions of the TVC relating to welfare of street vendors and the quorum in TVC meetings. There is no mention regarding the conditions for the removal of members of both the TVC and DRC. The other important missing aspects are the register of appeals, issuing of identity cards, mention of other social functions of the TVC for the benefit of vendors (like those provided in the Goa Rules) and the provision of civic amenities.

18. RAJASTHAN
The Rajasthan Rules were notified on 15 February 2016. The Rules mention a distinct clause 6(8)(ii) which states that ‘an urgent meeting may also be convened when half of the members representing the street vendors so request the chairperson of the TVC by putting a memorandum duly supported by not less than half of the non-official members’.

There are a few gaps in the Rules that need to be addressed, such as the minimum age of vending, lack of provision for empaneling an expert, manner of documenting minutes and resources required by the TVC. In the Rajasthan Rules, the removal of members of the TVC is not clearly written whereas removal of members of the DRC is not mentioned at all. Many functions of the TVC, such as making available credit, pension schemes, and welfare schemes do not find explicit mention.

19. SIKKIM
The Sikkim Rules were notified on 27 June 2017. Although the Rules cover major aspects, details such as the minimum age of vending, the frequency of TVC meetings, details for disqualification of TVC members, and certain functions of the TVC such as welfare and informing vendors about rights should be incorporated in the current Rules. Rule 23 provides a provision for employees to be allocated to the TVC for discharge of its functions, but does not provide the details of the staff.

20. TAMIL NADU
The Tamil Nadu Rules were notified on 2 November 2015. The Rules are relatively meticulous compared to most states, but certain Rules need to be clearly stated such as the timeframe within which the hearing of the DRC should happen. The other issue is regarding the exorbitant fees for filing applications to the DRC. Other issues not specified clearly include... the frequency of TVC meetings, quorum of these meetings and provision for calling requisition/special meeting.

The Rules lack certain provisions such as the removal of TVC members, crucial TVC functions such as social security schemes, awareness regarding legal rights, quorum for TVC meetings, and manner for filling vacancies.

21. TRIPURA
The Tripura Rules were notified on 17 June 2016. The Rules are quite comprehensive and cover most aspects, such as the procedure of formation of the TVC and DRC and their functions. The Rules also mention that the TVC will undertake welfare plans and credit and pension schemes—rarely mentioned in other States’ Rules. However, there are a few gaps, such as the manner of documenting minutes of these meetings and resources required for conducting duties of the TVC. Another gap is that the headquarter grievance redressal and resolution committee shall be in Agartala, which will make the committee inaccessible for the street vendors.

22. UTTAR PRADESH
The Uttar Pradesh Rules were notified on 10 May 2017. The Rules lack clarity in a lot of places, including the election process and the formation and functions of the DRC. The Rules lack provisions on important TVC functions (street vendor welfare schemes and access to credit, informing vendors about their rights, etc), details about proceedings of TVC meetings, qualifications of non-official members, and removal of TVC members. The process of election of street vendors to the TVC is not clearly laid out. In addition, arbitrary powers have been given to officials under the Rules. For example, Rule 20(1) (e) states that a street vendor may be evicted by the municipality if the municipality or any officer empowered by it in this behalf thinks proper and justified. This Rule could be misused with any reasoning to justify vendor evictions, and should be deleted as it is against the interest of street vendors.

23. UTTARAKHAND
The Uttarakhand Rules were notified on 25 May 2016. The Rules are exhaustive, yet a few important aspects have been missed. The Rules do not provide any details about the manner of elections of street vendors for the TVC, and there are no provisions for a DRC, or for an expert to help the committee make better decisions in different matters, or regarding the removal of members of the TVC. Promotional measures, credit, and welfare are missing from the Rules as well. Rule 22(2)(xii) ‘Cooking of any nature whatsoever shall be forbidden’. This essentially phases out a lot of common food items sold by vendors which require to be cooked and this rule is unwarranted.

24. WEST BENGAL
The West Bengal Rules have been drafted poorly, missing out on some important concerns and with some provisions against the interests of street vendors. There are also instances of the Rules having exceeded powers given to States. For instance, the parent Act makes it clear [Second Schedule, Clause (n)] that public purpose is to be defined in the Scheme, by State governments in consultation with the TVC. Therefore, insertion of the definition of public purpose would be ultra vires the Act, and beyond the rule-making powers of the State.

The Rules do not clearly mention publishing the minutes of the TVC meetings in the public domain, and lack certain provisions such as details on the removal of TVC members, functions of TVC such as credit, social security, awareness regarding the role of vendors and their rights awareness.

Rule 9(b) states that after survey, for preparation of a detailed list of existing vendors, the TVC in consultation with the local authority concerned, shall fix a cut-off date after which any intending street vendor shall have to obtain license prior to starting a new business. Given delays in granting license, vendors may lose out on livelihood opportunities due to this provision.

Rule 9(e)(i) states that two-thirds of the footpath shall be earmarked to allow smooth pedestrian flow. Rule 14(6) states that every vendor shall ensure that no traffic blockage shall occur during the vending time, causing inconvenience to the general public. For this purpose, vending on the black top of the road is strictly prohibited. These provisions are against the purpose of ‘protection’ of street vendors as mentioned in the Act and are exclusively found in West Bengal Rules only. The West Bengal Rules were challenged in the West Bengal High Court due to its anti-street vendors provisions. The Court took cognisance of the matter and gave a stay order on the current Rules.

RECOMMENDATIONS
To ensure just State Rules, it is recommended that the Model Rules made by civil society organisations (Alternative Law Forum, National Hawker Federation and Human Rights Law Network) could be combined with the Rules of Chandigarh, Delhi, Goa, Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh, Maharashtra, Manipur, Tamil Nadu and Tripura as the Rules of these states have been drafted comprehensively.

It is strongly recommended to review all the State Rules on parameters of the Model Rules emerging out of a detailed consultative process. This could be done through high quality deliberation via multi-stakeholder consultation with State Governments. This is to ensure that the letter and spirit of the Act is reflected in State Rules as well as in local actions.

Final outcomes of the state level consultative process should lead to Model National Rules notification by the Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs, Government of India. The Ministry should also link the Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana–National Urban Livelihoods Mission (DAY–NULM) funds disbursement with the compliance to Model Rules as notified by the Ministry.
According to the Street Vendors (Protection of Livelihood and Regulation of Street Vending) Act, 2014, a ‘street vendor’ means ‘a person engaged in vending of articles, goods, wares, food items or merchandise of everyday use or offering services to the general public, in a street, lane, sidewalk, footpath, pavement, public park or any other public place or private area, from a temporary built up structure or by moving from place to place and includes hawker, peddler, squatter and all other synonymous terms which may be local or region specific.’

Today, street vendors are present in every urban neighbourhood and have become an indispensable part of India’s economy. With a variety of goods to offer such as vegetables, fruits, garments, electronic items, food, etc. street vendors play a significant role, both in rendering service to the public (by providing goods and services at lower prices) as well as generating employment and income. The International Labour Organisation (ILO) has recognised street vending as an activity which represents cultural capital and serves as an ‘effective poverty alleviation solution’ (Kirk, Zixin, & Malikaew, 2006).

While the exact national estimates of street vendors are not available, some studies peg the street vendors to constitute approximately 2 per cent of the population of a metropolis. (Naik, n.d.). The total number of street vendors in the country is estimated at around one crore and this figure is growing every day. (WEIGO, n.d.). In today’s times, when employment generation is at an all-time low compared to the last 45 years, it is imperative to recognise the significant contribution of street vendors in generating employment (Patel, 2019).

FIGHTING FOR THE RIGHTS OF STREET VENDORS

The struggle for street vendors to be recognised legally built up over more than five decades, adding pressure on the Government to introduce a legislation for their protection. The first attempt in this direction was made in 2004 with the formulation of the ‘Street Vendors Policy’ which aimed to grant street vendors legal status and allowed them to carry out their business in designated areas known as hawker zones (Government of India, 2004). However, the Policy failed to take note of executive difficulties that Government faced in implementing the guidelines enshrined. The Policy was later revised as the ‘National Policy of Street Vendors’ in 2009, which was somewhat similar to its predecessor (Government of India, 2009). This was followed by the introduction of the Model Street Vendors (Protection of Livelihood and Regulation of Street Vending) Bill in 2009, but this was critiqued for having ignored many pressing issues (Srivastava, et al., 2012). Civil society groups argued that the Bill was weak, given its lack of transparency in the administrative and oversight mechanisms, and lack of provisions to ensure that current vendors will be legalised under any new system (Braun and Ma, 2011).

However, after the landmark judgement of the Supreme Court, in Gainda Ram & Ors. vs. Municipal Corporation of Delhi & Ors. in 2010, the issue gained momentum again as the judgement highlighted the need for a comprehensive Bill and directed the Government to pass this Bill by June 2011. A revised Bill was then drafted with the help of the National Advisory Council and was introduced in the Lok Sabha in September 2012. The Bill was passed in the Lok Sabha on 6 September 2013 and eventually by the Rajya Sabha on 19 February 2014. The Street Vendors (Protection of Livelihood and Regulation of Street Vending) Act, 2014 was rejoiced as a victory of a long struggle for street vendors as it aims at protecting the livelihood rights and social security of street vendors and regulation of urban street vending in the country (Naik, n.d.). However, this victory on paper could not materialise into changing ground realities due to flaws in the implementation of the Act.

IMPLEMENTATION CHALLENGES

Despite the Act conferring rights to street vendors against extraction of bribes, rampant evictions and confiscation of goods, in reality street vendors across the country still face harassment at the hands of the local authorities and the police. Although there are many reasons behind this grim reality, like the historical class bias and the lack of awareness among street vendors about their rights, one of the major reasons is insufficient political and bureaucratic will to implement the Act.

This reality is evident by the deliberate failure of States and Union Territories (UTs) to regulate street vending terms as mandated in the Act. For example, the Act under Section 36 specified that the appropriate (State and UT) Governments make Rules within one year from the date of commencement of the Act. However, none of the States/UTs were able to draft the Rules within the statutory time frame of one year starting from 14 March 2014 (Narang and Goyal, 2017).

Similarly, Section 38 of the Act provides for a time frame of six months for framing Schemes from the date of passing the Act (14 March 2014), which is to be done in consultation with local authorities and Town Vending Committees (TVCs). Even after three years from the date of passing of the Act, not a single State/UT was able to frame the Rules within the statutory time frame of one year starting from 14 March 2014 (Narang & Goyal, 2017).

ILLEGAL EVICTIONS CONTINUE

Sections 3(1), (2) and (3) of the Act state that the TVC shall conduct a survey of all existing street vendors and ensure they are accommodated in the vending zones. Till the time the survey has been completed and the Certificate of Vending is issued to all street vendors, no street vendor shall be evicted. Contrary to the provisions stated in the Act, street vendors across the country face rampant evictions which not only take away their livelihood opportunities, but deeply affect their self-respect and dignity. In some areas with high footfall, street vendors are evicted almost every day (Rattan, 2014). In such circumstances, the street vendors find themselves at the mercy of the authorities, and there is often a high scale of corruption which is unavoidable for survival. Often, resistance by street vendors is met with more pressure from those in positions in power, not just against a vendor in question but the entire group, to further deter them from trying to claim their rights.

FAULTY SURVEY PROCESSES

Section 38 of the Act states that each State/UT has to frame a Scheme which will define the manner of conducting surveys, and each and every street vendor should be included in the survey. In reality, wherever these surveys have been conducted, they usually end up missing some vendors. According to activist Anita Das of the National Hawkers Federation, during the first survey in Ranchi only 5,901 street vendors were surveyed. In most States/UTs where surveys have been conducted, the process has been faulty and exclusionary.

LOCAL AUTHORITIES BYPASS PROVISIONS OF THE ACT

Section 4(1) of the Act clearly states that after the survey, a Certificate of Vending will be given to all the street vendors enumerated in the survey. Based on this, a list of street vendors will be prepared who will elect their representatives to the TVC. Thereafter, the task of distributing identity cards to the street vendors will be undertaken by the TVC [Section 6(3)]. However, currently the local bodies are completely neglecting the provisions of the Act and acting according to their own will.

In some cities, the municipal corporation has bypassed the step of issuing the Certificate of Vending and is directly giving identity cards to the vendors. In such circumstances, the importance of the legislature is undermined and street vendors are left at the mercy of the local authorities.
LACK OF GRIEVANCE/DISPUTE REDRESSAL COMMITTEE

Section 20 of the Act also mandates establishment of a grievance redressal committee which will consist of a civil judge or a judicial magistrate and two other persons who have relevant experience in the subject. This committee is essential for addressing problems of the street vendors in case they are dissatisfied by the decisions of TVC. Till now, none of the States/UTs have formed this committee.

INEFFECTIVE TOWN VENDING COMMITTEES

The TVC is the soul of the Act but it is found that none of the States/UTs are making efforts to strengthen it or make it participatory. A significant gap in implementation is that in majority of the cities, TVCs are formed through selection and not by election. Even in the TVC meetings the current problems faced by the vendors are not discussed and the decisions of the TVC are dominated by the local government officials. Often, the decisions regarding vending and non-vending zones are being taken by the officers alone without consulting the TVC. It was also reported that in many cities, TVC meetings are not being held and the authorities are not giving any reason for this delay. According to a newspaper report, Seetha Dasan of Kerala Street Vendors Forum said there is absolutely no progress in the implementation of the Act in the state capital. 'It’s been seven or eight months since the corporation called for a vendors committee meeting. The initial plan was to meet every month to discuss the progress of the implementation of the Act. Around 400 vendors were given IDs,' (Mohan, 2019).

NEED FOR RECOGNITION

Street vendors not only alleviate employment challenges but also offer a means of sustenance for many segments of society, especially the economically weaker section and low income groups who cannot afford to buy more expensive goods in retail shops. By providing goods and services at an affordable rate, street vendors serve the people. The Government should recognise their value to society and therefore ensure the implementation of the Act in its true spirit as it has the ability to foster and provide opportunities for entrepreneurial skills and sustain the economy to a great extent.
CHAPTER 2
OBJECTIVES AND METHODOLOGY

One of the pillars for the implementation of the Street Vendors Act 2014 is how well the State Rules are drafted. Rules should be drafted in the spirit of the Act, which protects the right to livelihood and facilitates street vendors’ participation in city planning and decisions concerning their livelihood.

This report analyses the Rules of 24 States and Union Territories (UTs) by comparing it with the provisions laid in the parent Act and Model Rules formulated by civil society. The analysis of Rules helps identify gaps and suggest amendments to the current State/UT Rules to ensure that provisions do not violate the intent of the Act. The report urges the Central and respective State/UT Governments to take necessary steps to uphold the interests of millions of street vendors who depend on vending for their very survival.

To help achieve the objectives of the Act, the National Hawkers Federation, Human Rights Law Network and Alternative Law Forum drafted Model Central Rules for the protection of livelihoods of street vendors and to regulate street vending. The Model Rules provide details on all the aspects listed under Section 36 of the Act, which gives power to States/UTs to formulate Rules to implement the Act. These Rules intend to offer a guiding light to the State/UT Governments to draft their respective Rules in consonance with the features of the parent Act. The Model Rules are detailed in Annexure 1.

For the purpose of this study, Rules formed by 24 States/UTs for the implementation of The Street Vendors Act 2014 were analysed. Within each State Rule, 17 sections were considered for analysis (listed in Table 1). Each section of the State Rules were then studied on two parameters:

1. The provisions stated in the parent Act
2. Wherever the Act gives power to the State Government to form their own Rules for carrying out the provisions of the Act

The Model Rules (in Annexure 1) were used as a reference point for a comparative analysis.

The report presents the analysis of each State separately, highlighting the sections found in contradiction to the parent Act or the Model Rules, and the good practices demonstrated. Data regarding State Rules was collected by filling RTI applications.

CHAPTER 3
STATE-WISE ANALYSIS OF RULES

1. ASSAM

The Assam Rules were notified on 26 February 2016. The major loophole in the Rules is the ambiguity about the manner of elections via nomination by street vendor associations and not by a ballot system of voting. The Rules also miss out in incorporating details about other subsidiary aspects, mentioned in the last section of the State analysis. The concerns regarding the State Rules are as follows:

UNDEMOCRATIC TVC FORMATION PROCESS

The Assam Rules were notified after the expiry of the statutory time frame of one year. Although the Rules mention 40 per cent representation of street vendors in the Town Vending Committee (TVC), the manner of the TVC formation is ambiguous. The process of election does not mention enlisting the street vendors through a survey and thereafter holding elections for the TVC formation by the urban local body (ULB). The current Rule suggests that the ULB has passed the responsibility onto the street vendors associations to hold the election.

Additionally, the Rules do not mention the procedure of elections to be followed by street vendors associations clearly either. This makes it vague and redundant. Rule 5 (a)-(d) states, ‘Each local authority shall call for election of street vendors by the street vendor associations; (b) Every notice (by the local authority) shall state the number of street vendors to be elected and the street vendor associations designated to hold the elections; (c) The designated street vendor association shall forward the list of elected vendors to the local authority; (d) The local authority shall appoint the elected vendors as members of the TVC’.

Therefore, it is recommended that this Rule be replaced by ‘Manner of elections among street vendors’ as defined in Section 2(j) of the Model Rules. The election of street vendors to the TVC should be through a democratic process of elections only after conducting a survey of all the street vendors.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

The Rules state that a meeting of the TVC should be held once a month and gives power to the Chairperson to call this meeting, but it does not provide any provision of calling a special meeting on the request of one-third members of the TVC. Hence Rule 6(a) should be amended to include, ‘if there is a consensus of one-third members of the TVC to call a meeting, such meeting should be called by the Chairperson within 72 hours’. All states except Delhi, Maharashtra, Meghalaya, Tamil Nadu, and Uttarakhand have the provision for calling a special meeting if there are matters that require urgent attention and decision making.

Further, Rule 4(c) states that all orders and decisions of TVC shall be authenticated by an officer authorised by the chairperson and that these decisions shall be notified in the notice board of the office of the TVC. To promote transparency in its business, it is recommended that the decisions of the TVC should be signed by all the members present at the meeting and the same should also be uploaded on the website of the local authority.

Regarding resources for conducting its business, the Rules only make provision for an office space. Since the functions of the TVC are permanent in nature and would require these resources as long as it exists, this Rule should be amended by properly defining the needs (human and infrastructural) of the TVC and the resources to be provided by the ULB for its proper functioning. This may include a clerk, secretary, a nodal officer of suitable experience, group-D staff and required infrastructure as recommended in the Model Rules.

MINIMUM AGE OF VENDING
Regarding the age of vending, the parent Act [Section 3(1)] states that every street vendor who has completed the age of fourteen years shall be issued a Certificate of Vending or such age may be prescribed by the appropriate Government. Assam Rules allow Certificate of Vending to be given to street vendors who have completed eighteen years of age.

LIMITED APPEAL TIME AGAINST TVC/DRC DECISIONS
If the aggrieved party is dissatisfied by the decision of the TVC or the DRC, the current Rule (Section 9) provides a time period of 30 days to the aggrieved party to file an appeal against the decision. It is suggested that the street vendor be given adequate time, at least 60 days to file the complaint.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING
The Rules miss out in not providing clarity on other aspects necessary for the implementation of the Act, such as the qualification of non-official members, removal of members of the TVC, filing of vacancies of the TVC, returns to be furnished by the TVC, quorum of meetings of the TVC and the preparation of vending plans. Most of the major functions of the TVC are missing like social security, following up on cases, awareness programmes to be conducted by them, etc. These aspects should also be included within the ambit of the Rules. The Model Rules may be referred to, to include these missing aspects in the current Rules.

2. ANDHRA PRADESH

The Andhra Pradesh Rules were notified on 31 March 2017. The major contention with the Rules are provisions which are discriminatory and against the interests of street vendors. The other issue is that the mode of formation of the Town Vending Committee (TVC) is by election/selection, although clause (d) of sub-section (2) of Section 22 of the parent Act suggests that the street vendors shall elect their representatives among themselves.

PROVISIONS AGAINST THE INTEREST OF STREET VENDORS
There are certain provisions in the Rules which violate the purpose of ‘protection’ of street vendors. For example, Rule 3(5) which is also present in the Central Act (Section 28) states ‘If any street vendor, who indulges in vending activities without a certificate of vending … he shall be liable to a penalty for each such offence which shall extend up to rupees two thousand only.’ Given that the process of issuing certificates is slow and inefficient, penal provisions like this may lead to undue exploitation of vendors. Therefore rule 3(5) should be omitted.

Rule 3(2) states, ‘Residential street vendors are to be considered for all schemes under financial, skill and social inclusion.’ This rule is against the principle of equality of the Constitution. The people of the nation should not be discriminated based on domicile status. It is therefore suggested that all street vendors be treated equally and identity cards should be issued to all the vendors irrespective of their state of origin.

DEFINITION OF ‘PUBLIC PURPOSE’ NOT A PREROGATIVE OF THE STATE GOVERNMENT
Rule 3(1)(s) has defined ‘public purpose’. The Act makes it clear [Second Schedule, Clause (n)] that public purpose is to be defined in the Scheme, by State Governments in consultation with the TVC. Therefore, insertion of the definition of public purpose would be ultra vires the Act, and beyond the rule-making powers. Hence it should be omitted from the Rules.

MINIMUM AGE OF VENDING
The parent Act [Section 3(1)] states that every street vendor who has completed the age of fourteen years shall be issued a Certificate of Vending or such age may be prescribed by the appropriate Government. The Andhra Pradesh Rules allow Certificate of Vending to be given to the street vendors who have completed eighteen years of age.

UNDEMOCRATIC TVC FORMATION PROCESS
Rule 4(1)(ii) states that the non-official TVC members shall be elected/selected as per the procedure. The formation of the TVC should be through election only and not by either process. Such ambiguity in the Rules should be removed. It is recommended that this Rule be replaced by ‘Manner of elections among street vendors’ as defined in Section 2(j) of the Model Rules. The election of street vendors to the TVC should be through a democratic process of elections only after conducting a survey of all the street vendors.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Although Rule 4(13) provides for the local authority to provide adequate staff as requested by the TVC to conduct its business, it also mentions that no permanent burden should be created by the TVC on account of the establishment cost. Since the functions of the TVC are permanent in nature and would require these resources as long as it exists, this rule should be amended by defining the needs (human and infrastructural) of the TVC and the resources to be provided by the urban local body (ULB) for its proper functioning. This may include a clerk, secretary, a nodal officer of suitable experience, group-D staff and required infrastructure as recommended in the Model Rules. It is imperative to define fully well what is needed by the TVC to properly function so that material requirements don’t impede the work process.

LIMITED TIME TO APPROACH THE DRC

For redressal of grievances or resolution of disputes, a street vendor can file a complaint to the dispute redressal committee (DRC) within 30 days from the day of occurrence of any incident causing the grievance [Rule 5(2)(ii)]. It is suggested that the street vendor be given adequate time, at least 60 days to file the complaint.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING

The Rules miss out providing clarity on other issues such as qualifications of non-official members, removal of members of the TVC and DRC. Therefore, it is recommended that such details as listed in the Model Rules be included to make the Rules more lucid.

3. BIHAR

The major contention with the Rules is the mode of selection of street vendors in the Town Vending Committee (TVC), instead of an election system. This process is undemocratic and against the spirit of the Act.

UNDEMOCRATIC TVC FORMATION PROCESS

Rule 4 states that the appointment of street vendors in the TVC will be by selection and not by election. This process takes away the agency from street vendors. Therefore, the Rule should be amended immediately and the street vendor’s representatives should be elected by the street vendors [as recommended in Section 2 (h), (i) and (j) of the Model Rules] to ensure that the formation of the TVC is just and has rightful representation of the street vendors.

Rule 4(6)(a)(vi) states that, ‘Minutes of the meeting will be signed by the chairperson and would be put up in the subsequent meeting of the Town Vending Committee’. To promote transparency in its business, it is recommended that the decisions of the TVC should be signed by all the members present at the meeting and the same should also be uploaded on the website of the local authority.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Rule 6(4) states that ‘meeting of the committee will be held at least once every three months’. To ensure the smooth functioning of the TVC this Rule should be amended to at least one meeting of the TVC each month as this will help address the problems faced by the street vendors in a timely manner and expedite decision making.

Rule 6(9) defines the quorum for the TVC meeting to be at least one-third of the total members of the TVC. To maintain democratic nature of the process and ensure official members are not making decisions on their own, the quorum for the meeting should be at least two-thirds of the total TVC members. This is the standard norm followed by other states (Chandigarh, Goa, Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh, Karnataka, Kerala, Lakshadweep, Manipur, Maharashtra, Sikkim and Tripura) as well.

Although Rule 9 states that the local authority will provide permanent office and adequate staff as requested by the TVC, it also mentions that no permanent burden should be created by the TVC. Since the functions of the TVC are permanent in nature and it would require these resources as long as it exists, this rule should be amended by properly defining the needs (human and infrastructural) of the TVC and the resources to be provided by the urban local body (ULB) for its proper functioning. This may include a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience, group-D staff and required infrastructure.

LIMITED TIME TO APPROACH THE DRC

For redressal of grievances or resolution of disputes, a street vendor can file a complaint to the dispute redressal committee (DRC) within 30 days from the day of occurrence of any incident causing the grievance (Section 11). It is suggested that the street vendor be given adequate time, at least 60 days to file the complaint.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING

The Rules miss out in providing clarity on other issues such as the qualification of some non-official members, removal of members/filling vacancies of the DRC. There is no explicit mention of undertaking welfare schemes. These aspects should be included as well.

4. CHANDIGARH

The Chandigarh Rules have been drafted comprehensively as it provides details on all aspects as mentioned under Section 36 (Power to make Rules) of the parent Act. There are a few changes that are proposed for better implementation of the Act.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Rule 19(1) states that ‘a TVC shall ordinarily hold at least one meeting within a period of three months or at any such intervals as the Chairperson of the Town Vending Committee may decide for the transaction of its business’. To ensure the smooth functioning of the TVC, this Rule should be amended to monthly TVC meetings as this will help address the problems faced by street vendors in a timely manner and expedite decision making.

Rule (23) states that on the request of the TVC, the local authority may provide employees to the TVC to discharge its responsibilities efficiently. However, it is imperative that the resources (human and infrastructural) required for proper functioning of the TVC be clearly laid out. The resources ideally required may include a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience, group-D staff and required stationery and computers/telephone and any such infrastructure required to manage an office and should be clearly defined in the Rules.

Rule (19) mentions that the minutes of the meeting will be signed by the Chairperson and would be circulated and published on the website. To promote transparency in its business and avoid the existence of ghost members, it is proposed that the decisions of the TVC be signed by all the members present at meeting and not just the Chairperson.

LIMITED TIME TO APPROACH THE DRC

For redressal of grievances or resolution of disputes, a street vendor can file a complaint to the dispute redressal committee (DRC) within 30 days from the day of occurrence of any incident causing grievance. It is suggested that the street vendor be given adequate time, at least 60 days to file the complaint.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING

Though social auditing and returns to be furnished finds a mention under the functions of the TVC section, the Rules do not provide a detailed explanation about how this should be conducted. It is, therefore, suggested that the procedure for these activities be defined under the schedule. The Rules should also provide details in case of removal of TVC members.
5. CHHATTISGARH

Although the Chhattisgarh Government notified the Rules shortly after the passing of one year since the commencement of the Act, it is one of the most poorly drafted Rules among all States. The Rules provide details only on a few aspects, leaving out key areas that need to be covered. Besides being inadequate, the Rules are vague and unclear and should be revised on the lines of the Model Rules provided in this report.

MINIMUM AGE OF VENDING
Regarding the age of vending, the parent Act [Section 3(1)] states that every street vendor who has completed the age of fourteen years shall be issued a Certificate of Vending or such age may be prescribed by the appropriate Government. The Chhattisgarh Rules state that the minimum age for street vending shall be eighteen years.

UNDEMOCRATIC TVC FORMATION PROCESS
Rule 5(2)(e) states, ‘The Vendors’ guild shall nominate ten vendors, half of whom shall be women as members. Provided that, if there is no Vendors’ Guild, the Municipal Officer shall nominate ten vendors, half of whom should be women, to serve as members. Provided that, if there is no Vendors’ Guild, the Municipal Officer shall nominate ten vendors, half of whom should be women, to serve as members.’

This process is undemocratic and takes away the agency from street vendors. The Rule should be amended immediately and the street vendor’s representatives should be elected by the street vendors [as recommended in Section 2 (h), (i) and (j) of the Model Rules] to ensure that the formation of the TVC is just and has rightful representation of the street vendors.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS
Rule 5(5) suggests that the time between two meetings of the TVC should not be more than three months. To ensure the smooth functioning of the TVC, this Rule should be amended to monthly TVC meetings as this will help address the problems faced by street vendors in a timely manner and would also expedite decision making.

Rule 6 mentions the provision of a rent-free office space for TVC. This Rule should be amended to include other resources (human and infrastructural) required for discharge of duties of the TVC such as a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience, group-D staff and required stationery and computers/telephone and any such infrastructure required to manage an office.

CURRENT FORM OF RULES REFLECTS AN INCOMPLETE DOCUMENT
The Chhattisgarh Rules do not seem to represent a serious intent to change the status quo. The current Rules fail to provide clarity on key aspects required for the Act to have full effect. The aspects that need to be incorporated in the current Rules are:

a. The form and the manner of making an application
b. The form, period and manner of filing appeal with the local authority
c. The persons and the experience such persons shall have for the dispute redressal committee
d. The manner of verification and enquiry on receipt of grievance or dispute,
e. The time within which and the manner in which steps for redressal of grievances and resolution of disputes may be taken
f. The form, the time within which and the manner in which an appeal shall be filed and disposed off

g. The term of, and the manner of constituting the Town Vending Committee
h. The manner of elections among street vendors
i. The allowances to Chairperson and members
j. Functions to be discharged by the Town Vending Committee
k. The manner and the purpose for which a person may be associated
l. The allowances to be paid to an associated person
m. The other employees of Town Vending Committee
n. The manner of maintaining up to date record of all street vendors
o. The returns to be furnished
p. The manner of publishing summary of scheme
6. DELHI

The Delhi Rules were notified on 11 January 2018. The Rules are well drafted and comprehensive. However there are a few changes that should be made which are discussed below.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

To promote transparency in its business, the decisions of the TVC should be signed by all the members present and the minutes of the meeting should also be uploaded on the website of the local authority. Section 19 of the Rules should be amended to include the aforementioned provisions.

Further, the Rules state a meeting of the TVC is to be called once in three months which is not desirable for the smooth functioning of the TVC. Therefore, Rule 19(1) should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited.

It is also necessary that the Rules have provision for a requisition (special) meeting that can be called by 40 per cent members of the TVC. Such a provision exists in all states except Delhi, Meghalaya, Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu and Uttarakhand. This is to ensure that other members (other than the Chairperson) can call a meeting too in case any important issue requires urgent attention.

Rule 20(i) defines the quorum for the TVC meeting to be one-third of the total members of the TVC. To maintain democratic nature of the process and ensure official members are not making decisions arbitrarily, the quorum for the meeting should be at least two-thirds of the total members of the TVC. This is the standard norm followed by other States/UTs such as Chandigarh, Goa, Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh, Karnataka, Kerala, Lakshadweep, Manipur, Maharashtra, Sikkim and Tripura.

Rule 23 does not properly define the requirements of the TVC. This Rule should be amended to provide additional facilities such as dedicated staff—a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience—and other resources required for smooth functioning of its business. It is imperative to define fully well what is needed by the TVC to properly function so that material requirements don’t impede the work process.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING

The Rules miss out in providing clarity on other issues such as the lack of well-defined parameters to remove TVC vendors and provision for non-harassment of vendors.

7. GOA

The Goa Rules were notified on 19 October 2016 in the official gazette. The Rules provide a lucid and coherent explanation about each aspect, leaving very little or no space for ambiguity. The Rules should particularly be lauded for clearly describing the election procedure. Although the document is fairly comprehensive, there are areas of improvement which should be taken up by the State.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Rule 5(2) states that ‘an ordinary meeting of the Town Vending Committee (TVC) shall be held at least every two months.’ This rule should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited.

Rule 5(10) mentions that ‘the minutes of the meeting shall be signed by the Chairperson and shall be put up in the subsequent meeting of TVC for confirmation.’ To promote transparency in its business and avoid the existence of ghost members, it is proposed that the decisions of the TVC should be signed by all the members present at the meeting and not just the Chairperson.
Regarding resources required by the TVC to conduct its business, Rule (13) makes provision for a secretary, clerk and office peon. But other physical resources such as an office, a meeting hall, computers/telephone and any such infrastructure required to manage an office are missing from the Rules. It is imperative to define fully well what is needed by the TVC to properly function so that material requirements don’t impede the work process. Therefore, these resources should be incorporated as well.

MINIMUM AGE OF VENDING

Regarding the age of vending, the parent Act [Section 3(1)] states that every street vendor who has completed the age of fourteen years shall be issued a Certificate of Vending or such age may be prescribed by the appropriate Government. The Goa Rule (23) states that the minimum age for street vending shall be eighteen years.

8. GUJARAT

The Gujarat Rules were notified on 18 October 2016 by the Gujarat Government Gazette. The Rules are comprehensive and well defined and include two features which are rarely found in other Acts. This includes Section 12, which requires the local authority to circulate a status paper of the street vending scenario in the city, which will help bring out the nuances of the street vending scenario in the city. The other Rule is regarding the constitution of a sub-committee (Rule 14) to examine any specific issue that may crop up, from time to time, and to give suggestions/recommendations on the issues referred to it.

There are merits with the Rules framed, but there are some drawbacks too. The Rules begin by defining ‘public purpose’ which according to the parent Act is to be defined in the Scheme, by State governments in consultation with Town Vending Committees (TVCs), as is beyond the rule-making powers of the State.

LIMITED TIME TO APPROACH THE DRC

For redressal of grievances or resolution of disputes, a street vendor can file a complaint to the dispute redressal committee (DRC) within 30 days from the day of occurrence of any incident causing the grievance. It is suggested that the street vendor be given adequate time, at least 60 days to file the complaint.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING

The Rule misses out in providing clarity on other issues such as the qualifications of non-official members, and removal of members of the DRC. Further, the Rule does not provide explicitly, in the functions of the TVC, the need to undertake social schemes. It does not contain provisions to make available civic amenities and other facilities like cold storage, etc by the appropriate Government. Gujarat Rule 3 states that the minimum age for street vending shall be eighteen years.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Rule 10(10) states that, ‘The meeting of the Town Vending Committee shall be held at least once in every six months’ which is not desirable for the smooth functioning of the TVC. Therefore, this Rule should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited.

The Rule 10(8) mentions that ‘the minutes of the meeting shall be signed by the Chairperson and shall be taken up in the subsequent meeting of TVC for confirmation.’ To promote transparency in its business and avoid the existence of ghost members, it is proposed that the decisions of the TVC should be signed by all the members present at the meeting and not just the Chairperson.

Although Rule 17(1) provides for the local authority to provide adequate staff as requested by the TVC, it also mentions that no permanent burden should be created by the TVC on account of the establishment cost. This Rule should be amended by properly defining needs of the TVC for its proper working. The functions of the TVC are permanent in nature and it would require these resources as long as it exists. This particular Rule should be amended to provide additional facilities such as dedicated staff—a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience—and other resources required for smooth functioning of its business. It is imperative to define fully well what is needed by the TVC to properly function so that material requirements don’t impede the work process.

LIMITED TIME TO APPROACH THE DRC

For redressal of grievances or resolution of disputes, a street vendor can file a complaint to the dispute redressal committee (DRC) within 30 days from the day of occurrence of any incident causing grievance. It is suggested that the street vendor be given adequate time, at least 60 days to file the complaint.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING

The Rule miss out in providing clarity on other issues such as the removal of members of the DRC. Many promotional and social welfare/security functions of the TVC and duties of local authority find no mention. These issues are important and should be incorporated in the Rules as well.

9. HARYANA

The Haryana Rules were notified on 31 January 2017. The Rules begin by defining ‘public purpose’, which according to the parent Act is to be defined in the Scheme by the State in consultation with the Town Vending Committee (TVC), and is therefore beyond the rule-making powers of the State.

Besides this, the Rules have many gaps that need to be addressed.

MINIMUM AGE OF VENDING

Regarding the age of vending the parent Act [Section 3(1)] states that every street vendor who has completed the age of fourteen years shall be issued a Certificate of Vending or such age may be prescribed by the appropriate Government. Haryana Rule 3 states that the minimum age for street vending shall be eighteen years.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Rule 11(1) states that ‘a Town Vending Committee shall ordinarily hold at least one meeting within a period of three months’ which is not desirable for the smooth functioning of the TVC. Therefore, this Rule should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited.

Further, the provision of calling a special meeting by the Chairperson on the request of one-third members of the TVC is also missing. This provision should be added to address important issues that require urgent attention. Another addition should be made regarding the quorum of the meetings of the TVC, which should be two-thirds of the total TVC members. It is important to maintain the democratic nature of this process and that ensure official members are not making decisions on their own.

The Rules do not mention the manner of recording and displaying the minutes of the meetings of the TVC in the public domain. To promote transparency in its business, it is recommended that the decisions of the TVC should be signed by all the members present at the meeting and the same should also be uploaded on the website of the local authority.

The Rules also lack the provision to provide resources to the TVC for the smooth implementation of the Act. This particular Rule should be included and would require defining human resources such as a secretary, clerk and office peon and physical resources such as an office, a meeting hall, computers/telephone and any such infrastructure required to manage an office.
EXORBITANT APPLICATION FEES
Schedule I (6) states that ‘the candidates shall make security deposit of INR 25,000 in cash or demand draft or pay order along with the nomination papers. If a candidate fails to get less than one sixth of the votes polled, the security deposit shall be forfeited to the competent authority.’ This Rule is impractical as this amount is too high to be paid by street vendors who have low incomes.

LIMITED TIME TO APPROACH THE DRC
For redressal of grievances or resolution of disputes, a street vendor can file a complaint to the dispute redressal committee (DRC) within 30 days from the day of occurrence of any incident causing grievance. It is suggested that the street vendor be given adequate time, at least 60 days to file the complaint.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING
The Rule miss out in providing clarity on other issues such as the DRC—its members, manner of filing applications, time-frame for filing and disposal of applications, removal of members of the committee. There is also no mention of the resources required to conduct the business of the TVC, the quorum of meetings, provision for calling special meetings, filling vacancies, qualification of non-official members, manner of maintaining records, etc. Duties of authorities such as making available cold storage, sanitation, etc are also missing. These aspects are important and should be included within the ambit of the Rules.

10. HIMACHAL PRADESH
The Himachal Pradesh Rules were notified by the government on 5 December 2016. One crucial aspect that the Rules have addressed is incorporating the concept of Provisional Town Vending Committees (TVC) (Rule 5). The role of this committee is to conduct the surveys and facilitate formation of the permanent TVC. This Rule is a logical step towards the formation of the permanent TVC which other states have missed. Hence, it should be incorporated in other states as well.

The Rules should be lauded for Section 12 which requires the local authority to circulate a status paper of the street vending scenario in the city, which could help bring out the nuances of the street vending scenario in the city.

Besides these, the Rules also have a provision for the constitution of a sub-committee (Rule 14) to examine any specific issue that may crop up, from time to time, and to offer suggestions/recommendations on the issues referred to it.

Although the Rules are defined with clarity and have certain distinct features, there are certain gaps that need to be addressed as well. To begin with, the definition of ‘public purpose’ needs to be omitted from the Rules as the Second Schedule, Clause (n) of the parent Act states that public purpose is to be defined in the Scheme, by the State in consultation with the TVC. Therefore, insertion of the definition of public purpose as Rule 2(e) would be ultra vires the Act, and beyond the powers of the State.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS
Rule 10(10) states that ‘The meeting of the Town Vending Committee shall be held at least once in every two months.’ which is not desirable for the smooth functioning of the TVC. Therefore, this Rule should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited.

Further, the provision of calling a special meeting by the Chairperson on the request of one-third TVC members is also missing. This provision should be added to address any important issue that requires urgent attention.

Rule 10(8) mentions that ‘the minutes of the meeting shall be signed by the Chairperson and shall be placed in the subsequent meeting of TVC for confirmation.’ To promote transparency in its business and avoid the existence of ghost members, it is proposed that the decisions of the TVC should be signed by all the members present and the same should also be uploaded on the website of the local authority.

Although Rule 17 requires the local authority to provide adequate staff as requested by the TVC, it also mentions that no permanent burden should be created by the TVC on account of the establishment cost. Since the functions of the TVC are permanent in nature it would require these resources as long as it exists. Therefore, this Rule should be amended by properly defining the needs (human and infrastructural) of the TVC and the resources to be provided by the urban local body (ULB) for its proper functioning. This may include a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience, group-D staff and required infrastructure.

11. KERALA

The Kerala Rules lack clarity. The manner of formation of the Town Vending Committee (TVC) is by selection and not through election and the Dispute Redressal Committee (DRC) is only present in the capital city. The Rules do not have any attached schedules or templates of forms to be filled for filing nomination for election, application form for grievance redressal and dispute resolution, application form for appeal to the local authority, annual reports and other returns to be furnished by TVC, etc. This makes the Rules inadequate. Required templates should be attached to the schedule.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Rule 6(xi) states that ‘The meeting of the Town Vending Committee shall be held at least once in every two months’ which is not desirable for the smooth functioning of the TVC. Therefore, this Rule should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited.

Although Rule 17 provides for the local authority to provide adequate staff as requested by the TVC, it also mentions that no permanent burden should be created by the TVC on account of the establishment cost. This Rule should be amended by properly defining needs of the TVC for its proper working. The functions of the TVC are permanent in nature and it would require these resources as long as it exists. This particular Rule should be amended to provide additional facilities such as dedicated staff—a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience—and other resources required for smooth functioning of its business. It is imperative to define fully well what is needed by the TVC to properly function so that material requirements don’t impede the work process.

INACCESSIBLE GRC

Rule 16 point 3 states that ‘the place of sitting of GRC will be at Thiruvananthapuram’. This would be inconvenient and unapproachable for street vendors who live in distant areas. Therefore, the proposed change is that the State government should constitute one grievance redressal committee for every local authority, which will be located at the district headquarters.

LIMITED TIME TO APPROACH THE DRC

For redressal of grievances or resolution of disputes, a street vendor can file a complaint to the dispute redressal committee (DRC) within 30 days from the day of occurrence of any incident causing grievance. It is suggested that the street vendor be given adequate time, at least 60 days to file the complaint.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING

The Rules miss out in providing clarity on other issues such as qualifications of members and removal of members of the DRC. Functions of the TVC of a social nature such as security schemes and making available credit does not find a mention in the Rules.
UNDEMOCRATIC TVC FORMATION PROCESS
Rule 4(2)(iv) states that if there is registered association of street vendors in the city level, then the office bearer can nominate one member from each association. If there is more/less than ten registered association, then the council can select from the panel of persons, nominated by the association, considering the membership strength of the association. This process takes away the agency from street vendors. Therefore, the process of selection of street vendors should only be by elections and not selection.

LACK OF CLARITY ON OTHER ASPECTS
The Rules do not have any attached schedules or templates of forms to be filled for filing nomination for election, application form for grievance redressal and dispute resolution, application form for appeal to the local authority, annual reports and other returns to be furnished by TVC, etc. This makes the Rules inadequate. These template should be attached in the Schedule.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING
The Rules miss out in providing clarity on other issues such as the removal of members of the TVC and the DRC, qualifications of non-official members, etc. Also missing are provisions for other social functions of the TVC like providing special schemes for the well being of vendors like social security, etc. These aspects are important and should be included within the ambit of the State Rules.

12. LAKSHADWEEP
The Lakshadweep Rules were notified on 27 July 2015. The Rules are well-defined, but could be improved with the following minor changes.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS
Rule 19(1) states that ‘a TVC shall ordinarily hold at least one meeting within three months’ which is not desirable for the smooth functioning of the Town Vending Committee (TVC). Therefore, this Rule should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited.

Rule 20(3) mentions that ‘the minutes of the meeting shall be signed by the Chairperson’. To promote transparency in its business and avoid the existence of ghost members, it is proposed that the decisions of the TVC should be signed by all the members present and the same should also be uploaded on the website of the local authority.

Regarding resources required by the TVC to conduct its business, Rule (23) provides provision for local authorities to provide employees as the local authority considers necessary for the discharge of its duties. It is recommended that for the proper functioning of the TVC, these resources should be clearly defined and be requested by the TVC themselves. This would require defining human resources such as a secretary, clerk and office peon and physical resources such as office, a meeting hall, computers/telephone and any such infrastructure required to manage an office which are missing from the Rules.

LIMITED TIME TO APPROACH THE DRC
For redressal of grievances or resolution of disputes, a street vendor can file a complaint to the dispute redressal committee (DRC) within 30 days from the day of occurrence of any incident causing the grievance. It is suggested that the street vendor be given adequate time, at least 60 days to file the complaint.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING
The Rule miss out in providing clarity on other issues such as the qualifications of non-official members. There is a lack of mention of duties of the local authority such as providing cold storage, sanitation etc. These aspects should be incorporated in the Rules as well.
13. MAHARASHTRA

The Rules for Maharashtra are well drafted and comprehensive. A few changes are suggested as follows:

LIMITED TIME TO APPROACH THE DRC

Rule 6(5) states that the application to the grievance redressal committee shall be filed by the street vendor within 30 days from the date of occurrence of any incidence or order, causing the grievance or dispute. The time period needs to be expanded to at least 60 days to provide enough time for a proper appeal.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

The Rule 22(3) mentions that ‘the minutes of the meeting shall be signed by the Chairperson’. To promote transparency in its business and avoid the presence of ghost members, the decisions of the Town Vending Committee (TVC) should be signed by all the members present at the meeting and should also be uploaded on the website of the local authority.

Further Rule 21(1) states that a meeting is to be called once in three months which is not desirable for the smooth functioning of the TVC. Therefore, this Rule should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited.

It is also necessary that the Rules have provision for a requisition/special meeting that can be called by one-third members of the TVC as found in many other State Rules. All states except Delhi, Maharashtra, Meghalaya, Tamil Nadu and Uttarakhand have this provision. This is to ensure that other members too can call a meeting to discuss urgent/important issues that come to their notice.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING

The Rules miss out in providing clarity on other issues such as defining grounds for removal of TVC and DRC members. Some of the functions of the TVC, such as enhancing vendor awareness of rights is also missing. Details about these aspects should be included so that there is no room for ambiguity in the State Rules.

14. MANIPUR

The Manipur Rules were notified by the government on 2 May 2016. The Rules are self-explanatory and comprehensive. There are a few gaps that should be addressed as mentioned:

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Rule 19(1) states that ‘a TVC shall ordinarily hold at least one meeting within three months’ which is not desirable for the smooth functioning of the Town Vending Committee (TVC). Therefore, this Rule should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited.

Rule 20(3) mentions that ‘the minutes of the meeting shall be signed by the Chairperson’. To promote transparency in its business and avoid the existence of ghost members, the decisions of the TVC should be signed by all the members present at the meeting and should also be uploaded on the website of the local authority.

Regarding resources required by the TVC to conduct its business, Rule (23) provides provision for local authorities to provide employees as the local authority considers necessary for the discharge of its duties. It is recommended that for the proper functioning of the TVC, these resources should be clearly defined and be requested by the TVC themselves. This would require defining human resources such as a secretary, clerk and office peon and physical resources such as an office, a meeting hall, computers/telephone and any such infrastructure required to manage an office.

LIMITED TIME TO APPROACH THE DRC

For redressal of grievances or resolution of disputes, a street vendor can file a complaint to the dispute redressal committee (DRC) within 30 days from the day of occurrence of any incident causing the grievance. It is suggested that the time period needs to be expanded to at least 60 days to provide enough time for a proper appeal.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING
The duties of the local authority regarding civic amenities and other facilities does not find mention along with some other functions of the TVC, such as spreading rights awareness among vendors and following up on cases of dispute redressal. These aspects need to be incorporated in the Rules as well.

15. MEGHALAYA

The Meghalaya Rules were notified on 19 December 2016. The major issue in the Rules is that it does not provide 40 per cent representation to street vendors in the Town Vending Committee (TVC) and has failed to recognise the importance of elections. The Rules are quite poorly drafted compared to other states. The other gaps in the Rules are discussed as follows:

NON-COMPLIANCE WITH TVC MEMBER REQUIREMENTS
The Rules do not mention about the parent Act stipulated requirement of 40 per cent representation of street vendors in the TVC and 10 per cent representation from non-profits and community based organisations. The current Rule 3(1) provides only 14 per cent representation to street vendors which is against the Act. This Rule should be amended immediately and vendors’ representation should be increased to at least 40 per cent, with one-third members representing women vendors.

FLAWED SYSTEM OF APPEAL AGAINST THE TVC DECISION
Another flaw in the Rules is regarding the manner of filing appeal by the street vendors against the decision or order of the TVC. Rule 15(ii) states that ‘Provided that the appeal may also be summarily rejected on valid grounds in the first instance and to be spelt out in the form of speaking order’. According to this Rule there is no provision for documenting the grounds for rejecting an appeal filed by the street vendors. This Rule should be amended and a provision for documenting reasons for rejecting the appeal need to be incorporated as oral decision making is open to misuse.

UNDEMONCRATIC TVC FORMATION PROCESS
Rule 4(1) states that ‘The Chairperson of the Town Vending Committee shall nominate the members of the Vendors Association’. The formation of the TVC by selection and not through election is undemocratic and against the prescribed norms of the Act. It is recommended that this Rule be replaced by ‘Manner of elections among street vendors’ as defined in Section 2(j) of the Model Rules. The election of street vendors to the TVC should be through a democratic process of elections only after conducting a survey of all the street vendors.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS
Rule 3(iii) states that ‘The Town Vending Committee shall meet as frequently as the situation demands and if possible at least once in a month’ which is not desirable for the smooth functioning of the TVC. Therefore, this Rule should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited. This Rule need to be clearly defined and should not be ambiguous by incorporating terms such as ‘if possible’.

Rule 8(v) states that the quorum for the meeting is merely one-third TVC members which allows for official members to take decisions on their own in the absence of non-official members. To promote transparency in its business, the decisions of the TVC should be signed by all the members present at the meeting and should also be uploaded on the website of the local authority. This checks against ghost members.
There is no provision for a requisition/special meeting by consensus of one-third members. It is desirable that this provision be incorporated as there may be instances when some issues need to be discussed and addressed urgently.

Rule 14 only provides for an office space to the TVC. This Rule should be amended by defining needs of the TVC for its proper working. The functions of the TVC are permanent in nature and would require these resources as long as it exists. This particular Rule should be amended to provide additional facilities such as dedicated staff—a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience—and other resources required for smooth functioning of its business. It is imperative to define fully well what is needed by the TVC to properly function so that material requirements don’t impede the work process.

ABSENCE OF DISPUTE REDRESSAL COMMITTEE

No redressal committee has been provided for in the Rules which is a necessary requirement for providing justice to the vendors. The redressal committee is the body made of a civil judge or magistrate and two other members which will be responsible for taking appeals from vendors against arbitrary decisions of the TVC.

16. ODISHA

The Odisha Rules were notified on 7 July 2015. The major issue in the Rules is that the process of constituting the Town Vending Committee (TVC) is not by election but by selection. Further, it does not provide 40 per cent representation to street vendors as mandated by the Act. The Rules also miss out on functions to be performed by the TVC (though the essential function of welfare finds mention). Other gaps found in the Rules are discussed below.

UNDEMOCRATIC TVC FORMATION PROCESS

Rule 3(i) states that not more than four members from the street vendors’ association are to be nominated by the Chairman. The formation of the TVC by selection and not through election is undemocratic and against the prescribed norms of the Act. It is recommended that this Rule be replaced by ‘Manner of elections among street vendors’ as defined in Section 2(j) of the Model Rules. The election of street vendors to the TVC should be through a democratic process of elections only after conducting a survey of all the street vendors.

NON-COMPLIANCE WITH TVC MEMBER REQUIREMENTS

The Rules miss the parent Act stipulated requirements of 40 per cent representation of street vendors in the TVC and 10 per cent representation from non-profits and community based organisations. The current Rule 3(1)(i) provides only for the provision of ‘not more than four representatives to be nominated by Chairperson from amongst the members of street vendors associations’ which is against the Act. This Rule should be amended immediately and vendor’s representation should be increased to at least 40 per cent, provided that one-third members representing the street vendors shall be amongst women vendors.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Rule 4(2) states the quorum for meeting of the TVC to be five members which is not even a simple majority. Instead, the quorum should be two-thirds of the members and meeting minutes should be signed by all the members present in the meeting. This is to check that arbitrary decisions are not taken by just the official staff and ghost members do not exist.

Rule 3(2) only provides for an office space to the TVC. This Rule should be amended by properly defining needs of the TVC for its proper working. The functions of the TVC are permanent in nature and it would require these resources as long as it exists. This particular Rule should be amended to provide additional facilities such as dedicated staff—a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience—and other resources required for smooth functioning of its business. It is imperative to define fully well what is needed by the TVC to properly function so that material requirements don’t impede the work process.
STREET VENDORS CHARGED MONTHLY RENTAL

Rule 6(2)(e) determines the monthly rental (fee) payable by the street vendor. The street vendor should not be charged monthly rental and only be charged for the Certificate of Vending as done elsewhere.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING

The Rules lack certain provisions such as a systemic process to follow-up cases of dispute pending before the dispute redressal committee and the local authority. The functions of the TVC do not mention social audit of its activities as laid under the Act. These aspects should also be incorporated in the State Rules.

17. PUNJAB

The Punjab Rules were notified on 12 February 2015. The Rules are problematic due to issues with the election process as it is by show of hands and not through ballot elections. The other issues include the age of vending, absence of some functions of the TVC relating to welfare of street vendors and the quorum in TVC meetings. The other gaps and changes suggested are mentioned as follows:

MINIMUM AGE OF VENDING

Regarding the age of vending, the parent Act [Section 3(1)] states that every street vendor who has completed the age of fourteen years shall be issued a Certificate of Vending or such age may be prescribed by the appropriate Government. Punjab State Rule 3 mentions that the minimum age for street vending shall be eighteen years.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Rule 7(7) states the quorum for meetings of the Town Vending Committee (TVC) shall be one-fourth of its total members. To maintain the democratic nature of the process and ensure that official members are not making decisions on their own, the quorum for the meeting should be at least two-thirds of the total members of TVC. This is the standard norm followed by other states such as Chandigarh, Goa, Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh, Kerala, Lakshadweep, Manipur, Maharashtra, Sikkim and Tripura as well.

Further, Rule 7(5) mentions that the meetings of the TVC be conducted once every six months, which is not desirable for the smooth functioning of the TVC. Therefore, this Rule should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited.

In addition, to promote transparency in its business the decisions of the TVC should be signed by all the members present at the meeting and should also be uploaded on the website of the local authority. This checks against ghost members too.

The requirement of resources is not clearly defined in the Rules. Hence Rule 10 should be amended by properly defining needs of the TVC for its proper working. The functions of the TVC are permanent in nature and it would require these resources as long as it exists. This particular Rule should be amended to provide additional facilities such as dedicated staff—a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience—and other resources required for smooth functioning of its business. It is imperative to define fully well what is needed by the TVC to properly function so that material requirements don’t impede the work process.

UNDEMOCRATIC TVC FORMATION PROCESS

Rule 7(4) states that ‘the street vendors shall elect out of themselves such number of representatives as are mentioned in clause (viii) of sub rule (3) as members of the Town Vending Committee by show of hands in the presence of Chairperson of the town vending committee or an officer deputed by him’. It provides that street vendors will choose their representatives from among themselves by show of hands and the process for systematic election has been done away with. This process must be revised and TVC formation be driven by an election process.
LIMITED TIME TO APPROACH THE DRC
For redressal of grievances or resolution of disputes, a street vendor can file a complaint to the dispute redressal committee (DRC) within 30 days from the day of occurrence of any incident causing the grievance. It is suggested that the time period needs to be expanded to at least 60 days to provide enough time for a proper appeal.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING
There is also a lack of mention regarding the conditions for the removal of members of both the TVC and DRC. The other important things missing are the register of appeals, issuing of identity cards, mention of other social functions of the TVC for the benefit of vendors (like those provided in the Goa Rules) and providing civic amenities. These aspects should be included in the Rules as well.

18. RAJASTHAN
The Rajasthan Rules were notified on 15 February 2016. The Rules mention a distinct clause 6(8)(ii) which states that ‘an urgent meeting may also be convened when half of the members representing the street vendors so request the Chairperson of the TVC by putting a memorandum duly supported by not less than half of the non-official members’. There are a few gaps in the Rules that should be addressed, as explained:

MINIMUM AGE OF VENDING
Regarding the age of vending, the parent Act [Section 3(1)] states that every street vendor who has completed the age of fourteen years shall be issued a Certificate of Vending or such age may be prescribed by the appropriate Government. The Rajasthan Rule states that the minimum age for street vending shall be eighteen years.

NO PROVISION FOR EMPANELLING EXPERT PERSON FOR TVC
There is no provision for the incorporation of an expert person to work with the Town Vending Committee (TVC). Rule 24(1) of the parent Act states that ‘The Town Vending Committee may associate with itself in such manner and for such purposes, as may be prescribed, any person whose assistance or advice it may desire, in carrying out any of the provisions of this Act.’ This norm has been followed by all other states except Rajasthan and Uttarakhand. The Rule aims to help the TVC execute duties in a better way. Therefore, the provision of empanelling an expert person should be included in the Rules.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS
Rule 6(8) states that ‘The meeting of the Town Vending Committee shall be held quarterly i.e. at least a meeting in every three months’ which is not desirable for the smooth functioning of the TVC. Therefore, this Rule should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited.

Further, the manner of transaction of business of the TVC should be clearly laid out. For example, to promote transparency in its business and prevent the existence of ghost members, the decisions of the TVC should be signed by all the members present at the meeting and be uploaded on the website of the local authority. This provision is currently missing from the Rules.

Rule 6(1) only provides for an office space to the TVC and does not clearly define the staff that may be required for the TVC. This particular Rule should be amended to provide additional facilities such as dedicated staff—a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience—and other resources required for smooth functioning of its business. It is imperative to define fully well what is needed by the TVC to properly function so that material requirements don’t impede the work process.

LIMITED TIME TO APPROACH THE DRC
For redressal of grievances or resolution of disputes, a street vendor can file a complaint to the dispute redressal committee (DRC) within 30 days from the... day of occurrence of any incident causing grievance. It is suggested that the time period needs to be expanded to at least 60 days to provide enough time for a proper appeal.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING
In the Rajasthan Rules, the removal of members of the TVC is not properly written whereas removal of members of the DRC is not mentioned at all. Many functions of the TVC like making available credit, pension schemes, and welfare schemes don’t find explicit mention. These aspects should be included in the Rules as well.

19. SIKKIM

The Sikkim Rules were notified on 27 June 2017. Although the Rules cover major aspects, the State should amend the age of vending, the frequency of meetings of the Town Vending Committee (TVC) and certain functions of the TVC such as welfare, and informing street vendors about their rights.

MINIMUM AGE OF VENDING
Regarding the age of vending, the parent Act [Section 3(1)] states that every street vendor who has completed the age of fourteen years shall be issued a Certificate of Vending or such age may be prescribed by the appropriate Government. The Sikkim Rule states that the minimum age for street vending shall be eighteen years.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS
Rule 19(1) provides a provision for a meeting within a period of three months which is not desirable for the smooth functioning of the TVC. Therefore, this Rule should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited.

Additionally, to ensure transparency and participation in the meetings of the TVC, the minutes of the meeting should be signed by all members present in the meeting and not only the Chairperson. Therefore Rule 20(3) should be amended.

The requirement of resources by the TVC is not clearly defined in the Rules. Hence Rule 23 should be amended by defining needs of the TVC for its proper working. The functions of the TVC are permanent in nature and it would require these resources as long as it exists. This particular Rule should be amended to provide additional facilities such as dedicated staff—a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience—and other resources required for smooth functioning of its business. It is imperative to define fully well what is needed by the TVC to properly function so that material requirements don’t impede the work process.

LIMITED TIME TO APPROACH THE DRC
For redressal of grievances or resolution of disputes, a street vendor can file a complaint to the dispute redressal committee (DRC) within 30 days from the day of occurrence of any incident causing the grievance. It is suggested that the time period needs to be expanded to at least 60 days to provide enough time for a proper appeal.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING
Functions such as welfare, and informing street vendors about their rights should be incorporated under the functions of the TVC. The other aspect found missing from the Rules was the details of qualifications of TVC members.
NEED FOR TIMELY DISPUTE REDRESSAL

Rule 7(3) states that the Grievance Redressal and Dispute Resolution Committee shall fix a date for hearing of the application and shall issue notice of the hearing to the parties or shall cause a notice to be issued. But no fixed time is given within which hearing against the decision of the TVC will be done. It is hence necessary that the Grievance Redressal and Dispute Resolution Committee shall fix a date not exceeding 60 days for hearing of the application and shall issue notice of the hearing to the parties or shall cause a notice to be issued. This is important to ensure timely redressal of the grievances of street vendors.

EXORBITANT FEES FOR FILING APPLICATIONS

In the case of grievance, Rule 6(3) states that the application shall be submitted (by the street vendor) in triplicate and shall be accompanied by a fee of INR 500. Similarly, for filing the appeal, Rule 8(3) states that the appeal is to be submitted along with a fee of INR 500. This is an exorbitant amount compared to the income of the street vendors, discouraging them from filing complaints. Both these fee amounts should be reconsidered and scaled down to INR 100.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Rule 18 states that the meeting of the TVC should be held once in three months which is not desirable for the smooth functioning of the TVC. Therefore, this Rule should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited.

There is no provision for a requisition/special meeting by the consensus of one-third TVC members. It is desirable that this provision be incorporated as there may be instances when some issues need to be discussed and addressed urgently.

Another important issue missing from the Rule is regarding the quorum for the TVC meetings. Therefore, this addition should be made, which should be two-thirds of the total members of the TVC. It is important to maintain the democratic nature of the process and ensure that official members are not making decisions on their own.

Rule 19(2) states that the decisions by the TVC are to be taken by simple majority. This should be changed and should be with two-thirds of the members, half of which are non-official members and the minutes of the meeting should be signed by all the members present and then uploaded online. This is to check that arbitrary decisions are not taken by the official staff and ghost members do not exist.

Although Rule 24(1) provides a provision only for office space, this Rule should be amended to include other resources (human and infrastructural) required for discharge of duties of the TVC such as a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience, group-D staff and required stationery and computers/telephone and any such infrastructure required to manage an office. The functions of the TVC are permanent in nature and would require these resources as long as it exists, therefore such resources should be clearly stated.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING

The Rules lack certain provisions such as regarding removal of TVC members, many functions of the TVC are missing like disbursement of social security schemes, spreading awareness regarding legal rights of street vendors, quorum for TVC meetings, provision for calling a special meeting and manner for filling vacancies. These provisions should be incorporated in the State Rules as well.
21. Tripura

The Tripura Rules were notified on 17 June 2016. The Rules are quite well made covering most aspects and properly defining all the functions of the Town Vending Committee (TVC) as well as providing the manner and procedure for making other committees and their functions. The Rules also mentioned that the TVC will undertake welfare plans and credit and pension schemes which is rarely found in other State Rules. However, one major gap is that the headquarter grievance redressal and resolution committee shall be in Agartala which will make the committee inaccessible for the street vendors.

Some of the improvements suggested for the Rules include:

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Rule 11 states that ‘a TVC shall ordinarily hold at least one meeting within a period of three months’ which is not desirable for the smooth functioning of the TVC. Therefore, this Rule should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited.

Rule 12(3) states that the minutes of the TVC meetings will be signed by the Chairperson and circulated amongst all members. To promote transparency in its business and check against the existence of ghost members, the decisions of the TVC should be signed by all the members present at the meeting and not just the Chairperson and the same should be uploaded on the website of the local authority.

Regarding resources required by the TVC to conduct its business, Rule (15) provides provision for local authorities to provide employees as the local authority considers necessary for the discharge of its duties. It is recommended that for the proper functioning of the TVC, these resources should be clearly defined since the functions of the TVC are permanent in nature and it would require these resources as long as it exists. Therefore, this Rule should be amended by properly defining the needs (human and infrastructural) of the TVC and the resources to be provided by the urban local body for its proper functioning. This may include a clerk, secretary, a nodal officer of suitable experience, group D staff and required infrastructure. It is imperative to define fully well what is needed by the TVC to properly function so that material requirements don’t impede the work process.

INACCESSIBLE DISPUTE REDRESSAL COMMITTEE

Rule 16(3) provides that the headquarters for the grievance redressal and resolution committee shall be in Agartala. The redressal committee in Agartala is for half a million people. The next big town of Dharmanagar has a population of 46,000 people, which is 72 km away from Agartala. It would be inconvenient for street vendors who live in distant areas to file their complaints. Thus, redressal committees in other areas are required as well for timely resolution of complaints. Therefore, the proposed recommendation is that the State Government should constitute one grievance redressal committee for every local authority, which will be located at the district headquarters.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING

The Rule lacks certain provisions such as mentioning the qualification of members of the TVC and the role of the TVC in informing vendors of their rights. These aspects should be included in the State Rules as well.
22. UTTAR PRADESH

The Uttar Pradesh Rules were notified on 10 May 2017. The Rules lack clarity in a lot of places. Even the process of election of street vendors to the Town Vending Committee (TVC) is not clearly laid out. In addition, arbitrary powers have been given to officials under the Rules. Some of the issues regarding the Rules are summarised:

UNDEMOCRATIC TVC FORMATION PROCESS

There is a lot of ambiguity about the manner in which street vendors are to be elected to the TVC. Rule 5(e) mentions that ‘the association of street vendors may elect its members out of the members applied thereof under clause (d) and recommend for membership of TVC’. Further Rule 5(h) states that ‘if recommendations received are more than the required numbers, the municipality shall select the required members on the basis of lottery’.

Clause (d) of sub-section (2) of Section 22 of the parent Act states that ‘the number of members representing the street vendors shall not be less than forty per cent who shall be elected by the street vendors themselves in such manner as may be prescribed’. The formation of the TVC by selection and not through election is undemocratic and against the prescribed norms of the Act. Therefore, the Rule should be amended immediately and the street vendor’s representatives should be elected by the street vendors [as recommended in Section 2 (h), (l) and (j) of the Model Rules] to ensure that the formation of the TVC is just and has rightful representation of the street vendors.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Rule 8 defines the quorum for the TVC meeting to be one-third of the total members of the TVC. To maintain the democratic nature of the process and ensure official members are not making decisions arbitrarily, the quorum for the meeting should be at least two-thirds of the total TVC members. No business should be transacted without this quorum. This is the standard norm followed by other states such as Chandigarh, Goa, Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh, Karnataka, Kerala, Lakshadweep, Manipur, Maharashtra, Sikkim and Tripura as well.

Rule 7(1) mentions that ‘the TVC should at least meet quarterly’ which is not desirable for the smooth functioning of the TVC. Therefore, this Rule should be amended to at least one meeting per month so that the problems faced by the street vendors can be addressed in a timely manner and decision making can be expedited.

Although Rule 10 mentions that the municipality shall provide the TVC proper office space with adequate furniture and sufficient number of employees, it should be amended to provide additional facilities such as dedicated staff—a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience—and other resources required for smooth functioning of its business. It is imperative to define fully well what is needed by the TVC to properly function so that material requirements don’t impede the work process.

AMBIGUITY ABOUT THE DISPUTE REDRESSAL COMMITTEE

Although there is a provision for a dispute redressal committee, the details about the composition of its members and manner of filing complaints is not clearly mentioned in the Rules. This Rule should be amended by addressing the aforesaid gaps.

ARBITRARY EVICTIONS

Rule 20(1) (e) states that a street vendor may be evicted by the municipality if the municipality or any officer empowered by it in this behalf thinks it proper and justified. This Rule could be misused with the official giving any kind of reason to justify actions of evicting vendors. Therefore, this Rule should be deleted as it is against the interest of street vendors.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING

The Rules lack many provisions such as important functions of TVC like welfare and credit, informing vendors about their rights, details about the proceedings of meetings of the TVC, qualifications of non-official members, and removal of members of the TVC. These aspects should be included in the State Rules as well.
23. UTTARAKHAND

The Rules are exhaustive yet quite a few important aspects have been missed. The Rules do not provide any details about the manner of elections of street vendors for the Town Vending Committee (TVC). Another major gap is that the Rule does not mention any provision for Dispute Redressal Committee (DRC).

ABSENCE OF DISPUTE REDRESSAL COMMITTEE

The Rules leave out the redressal committee fully. In case the vendors require appeal from the decisions of the TVC through a well-informed body, there is no mechanism to do so. As there is no DRC, other aspects such as the members of the DRC and appeal against the decision of the committee are not mentioned in the Rules as well. Therefore it is recommended that the provision for DRC be included in the current Rules according to Section 2(b) - 2(g) in the Model Rules.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

The provision for calling a requisition/special meeting by one-third members of the TVC is missing. This provision should be added to address any important issue that requires urgent attention.

Regarding resources required by the TVC to conduct its business, Rule 13 (2) provides provision for local authorities to provide proper office space and such employees as may be prescribed, but these resources should be clearly defined. Since the functions of the TVC are permanent in nature and it would require these resources as long as it exists, this Rule should be amended by properly defining the needs (human and infrastructural) of the TVC and the resources to be provided by the ULB for its proper functioning. This may include a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience, group D staff and required infrastructure. It is imperative to define fully well what is needed by the TVC to properly function so that material requirements don’t impede the work process.

NO PROVISION FOR EMpanELLING EXPERT PERSON FOR TVC

The Rules do not make provision for an expert person to be incorporated to help the TVC make better decisions and execute its duties in a better way. This norm has been followed by other states as well. Therefore, the provision of empanelling an expert person should be included in the Rules.

SALE OF FOOD ITEMS FORBIDDEN

According to 22(2)(xii) cooking of any nature whatsoever shall be forbidden. This essentially phases out a lot of common food items sold by vendors which require to be cooked and this Rule is unwarranted. This Rule is in contradiction to the definition of street vendor mentioned in section 2 (l) of the parent Act which states that ‘street vendor means a person engaged in vending of articles, goods, wares, food items or merchandise of everyday use or offering services to the general public, in a street, lane, sidewalk, footpath, pavement...’

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING

The Rule lacks certain provisions such as removal of members of the DRC and TVC. Promotional measures, credit, and welfare are missing from the Rules as well, and should be included.
24. WEST BENGAL

The West Bengal Rules have been drafted poorly, lacking mention of certain pertinent issues that need to be covered and with provisions against the interests of the street vendors. The issues are elucidated below.

MINIMUM AGE OF VENDING

Regarding the age of vending, the parent Act [Section 3(1)] states that every street vendor who has completed the age of fourteen years shall be issued a Certificate of Vending or such age may be prescribed by the appropriate Government. The West Bengal Rule states that the minimum age for street vending shall be eighteen years.

UNDEMOCRATIC TVC FORMATION PROCESS

Rule 2 (b) states that the appointment of street vendors in the Town Vending Committee (TVC) will be by selection and not by election. This process takes away the agency from the street vendors. Therefore, the Rule should be amended immediately and the street vendor’s representatives should be elected by the street vendors [as recommended in Section 2 (h), (i) and (j) of the Model Rules] to ensure that the formation of the TVC is just and has rightful representation of the street vendors.

AMENDMENTS/CLARITY NEEDED ON TVC BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

The Rules do not specify the frequency of conducting TVC meetings. Ideally, at least one meeting of the TVC should be held every month. Therefore, Rule 7(1) should be amended to provide this clarity. Even the manner of sharing TVC meeting minutes in the public domain is not clearly mentioned. To promote transparency in its business and prevent the existence of ghost members, the decisions of the TVC should be signed by all the members present at the meeting and should also be uploaded on the website of the local authority. Rule 7(4) should be amended in the aforesaid manner.

Rule 12 only provides for an office space to the TVC and says no permanent burden should be created. Since the functions of the TVC are permanent in nature and it would require these resources as long as it exists, this Rule should be amended by properly defining the needs (human and infrastructural) of the TVC and the resources to be provided by the ULB for its proper functioning. This may include a clerk, secretary, nodal officer of suitable experience, group-D staff and required infrastructure. It is imperative to define fully well what is needed by the TVC to properly function so that material requirements don’t impede the work process.

CUT-OFF DATES FOR VENDING

Rule 9(b) states that after survey, for the preparation of detailed lists of existing vendors, the TVC in consultation with the local authority concerned shall fix a cut-off date after which any intending street vendor shall have to obtain license prior to starting a new business. This provision should be omitted as the machinery for providing the license is likely to be slow, based on the track record till date, and in the meantime the street vendors will be unable to work towards earning their livelihood.
ABSENCE OF THE DISPUTE REDRESSAL COMMITTEE
One major loophole in the Rules is the absence of the dispute redressal committee (DRC). A proper redressal committee needs to be provided, as is done in other states, to look after the interests of the vendors. DRC, being a proper judicial body, is suited to look after grievances of vendors.

DEFINING PUBLIC PURPOSE
The Act makes it clear [Second Schedule, Clause (n)] that public purpose is to be defined in the Scheme, by State Governments in consultation with TVC. Therefore, insertion of the definition of public purpose would be ultra vires the Act, and beyond the rule-making powers. Hence it should be omitted from the Rules.

RESTRICTIONS ON VENDORS
Rule 14(6) states that every vendor shall ensure that no traffic blockage occurs during vending time causing inconvenience to the general public. For this purpose, vending on the black top of the road is strictly prohibited. Further, no vending on black top is a blanket statement and will completely exclude many mobile vendors.

OTHER ASPECTS MISSING
The Rules lack certain provisions such as regarding removal of TVC members and functions of TVC such as credit, social security, spreading awareness among vendors on rights awareness, etc.

Note: The West Bengal Rules were challenged in the West Bengal High Court due to its anti street vendor provisions. The Court took cognisance of the matter and has given a stay order on the current Rules. The aspects mentioned should be considered for inclusion/amendment in the State Rules.
To conclude, there are a number of issues common to most of the Rules which should be collectively amended. Broadly speaking, there should be provision for non-harassment of street vendors, included in the Rules themselves as a policy point. Details regarding the qualification of non-official Town Vending Committee (TVC) members should be added in the State Rules too. It is important as those with no qualification or those with conflict of interests or mandate may end up causing issues in the quality of work undertaken by the TVC. In case of appointment of non-profit representatives, the non-profit shall be a registered trust/society which has submitted audited statement of accounts for at least three years, proving its credibility. The lead bank representative should be from a public service unit who has experience of lending for street vendors.

The principles of functioning of the redressal committee should be mentioned in the Rules, to offer guidelines for all the cases, instead of being discretionary in nature. The Chairman may be just a judicial magistrate and this may cause some issues for the rights of vendors as he would not be similar to a judge. Further, their authority for undertaking certain actions could end up lacking, which means they’ll have significantly more difficulty in getting the evidence and disposing off the case.

There provisions are pointed hereafter

- For the purpose of deciding the disputes before the Committee, the Committee shall be guided by the principles of safeguarding the right to livelihood of the street vendors, the principle of no-harassment by the police and other authorities and the other principles in the Rules. The application may be made in writing on plain paper

- Before the disposal of the complaint, the Committee shall provide an opportunity of personal hearing to the complainant street vendor and permit her/him to adduce any evidence in regard to his complaint

- For the purpose of proceedings under this Act, the Dispute Redressal Committee shall have all the powers of a Civil Court while trying a suit under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Central Act 5 of 1908) in respect of the following matters, namely:
  i. summoning and enforcing attendance of any person and examining her/him on oath
  ii. requiring the discovery and production of any document or any other material which can be produced as evidence
  iii. requisitioning any public record or copy thereof from any court or office
  iv. issuing commissions for the examination of witnesses or documents
RECOMMENDATIONS

To create Model State Rules, it is recommended that the Rules made by civil society organisations (Alternative Law Forum, National Hawker Federation and Human Rights Law Network) be combined with the Rules of Chandigarh, Delhi, Goa, Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh, Maharashtra, Manipur, Tamil Nadu and Tripura as the Rules of these states have been drafted comprehensively.

It is strongly recommended to review all the state Rules on parameters of the Model Rules emerging out of consultative process. This could be done through high quality deliberation through multi stakeholder consultation with state governments. This is to ensure that the letter and spirit of the Act is reflected in State Rules as well as in local actions.

Final outcomes of state level consultative process should lead to Model National Rules notification by the Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs, Government of India. The Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs should link the Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana (DAY) funds disbursement with compliance of Model Rules notified by the Ministry.

    - requisitioning any public record or copy thereof from any court or office issuing commissions for the examination of witnesses or documents
  • The committee shall pass orders within 45 days of receiving the complaint. |
2. f/g Form and time within which an appeal shall be disposed
- Section 20(4) of the Act says that a decision of the DRC can be appealed to the local authority – this raises two concerns - the fact that this essentially means that the DRC cannot hear complaints against the local authority and additionally since the state government has constituted the DRC, appeals against the DRC cannot go to the ULB. The states shall therefore create a state level Apellate DRC to hear appeals against any of the orders of the DRC.

2. h Term and manner of constituting the TVC
- A temporary TVC may be constituted until the initial survey of street vendors as mandated in Section 3 of the act is completed. Post the survey, elections of street vendors have to be conducted. If any vendors are left out of the survey and have filed an appeal to be included in the survey, such vendors shall apply to be included in the electoral rolls
  - Street Vendors shall constitute 50% of TVC
  - Later elections shall have all certificate holding street vendors as the Electoral College. Elections will be on a non-party basis. The ULB shall fund the elections. If the number of candidates is equal to the number of positions vacant, then there shall be a unanimous election
  - Preference shall be given to women, minorities, SC/ST and disabled, and transgender vendors
  - Reservation of street vendors based on caste shall be in accordance with their population (in various categories)
  - Term of TVC shall be three years
  - Member Secretary will be decided by the chairperson

2. i Number of other members of TVC
- The selection of nominated members of the TVC shall be done in a fair and transparent manner and none of those nominated should have been convicted in any case involving moral turpitude
  - A representative of the Central Trade Union or a representative of the Labour Department shall be included in the TVC. A representative of the collector’s office must be included in the TVC
  - The Residents Welfare Association shall also include associations of Slum Residents. CBOs shall also Domestic Worker collectives, Municipal Cleaning Workers Unions and other collectives of the urban deprived communities

2. j Manner of elections among street vendors
- The Local Authority shall by a notification express its intention to conduct elections for the members of a Town vending committee representing the street vendors of the area under the jurisdiction of the concerned Local Authority. The notification shall be issued before the term of the TVC ends, with sufficient time to complete the electoral process before the term of the TVC ends, so that the new TVC may be constituted immediately after the end of the term of an existing TVC. The concerned Local Authority shall appoint a returning officer for conducting the election of members of the Town vending committee(s) representing the street vendors of the area under the jurisdiction of the concerned Local Authority
- The procedure for the conduct of elections of members of a town vending Committee representing the street vendors in the area of the Jurisdiction thereof
  1. The Local Authority concerned shall supervise, direct and control the conduct of elections of the members of a TVC representing the street vendors in the area under its jurisdiction
  2. As soon as the notification expressing the intention of the local authority to conduct elections for members of a TVC representing the street vendors has been issued under sub-rule (1) of rule 13 and a returning officer has been appointed for conducting the elections under sub-rule (2) of that rule, the local authority shall by a resolution determine the date, time and place for conduct of elections
  3. The notice of the resolution/decision of the local authority shall be circulated among the street vendors engaged in the vocation of street vending in the area of jurisdiction of the TVC by any of the following modes, namely :-
    (a) by public notice to be published in two prominent daily newspapers in Hindi, English or such other language as the Local Authority thinks fit

(ii) the date on which, the place at which and the hours between which nomination papers shall be filed, such date being not less than seven clear days before the date fixed for election or if that day happens to be public holiday, the next succeeding day which is not a public holiday (the term “public holiday” means any day which is a public holiday under section 25 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 [Central Act XXVI of 1881] or any day which has been notified by the Government to be a public holiday for offices under the Government)
(iii) the date and the hour for scrutiny of the nomination papers

The list shall specify the registration number/certificate of vending and the name of the street vendor, the name of the father or husband, as the case may be, and the address of the street vendor. It shall be the duty of the TVC or the local authority, as the case may be, to bring up-to-date register of street vendors and such other register as the returning officer may require and hand over such records, register or registers to the returning officer thirty days prior to the date fixed for the purpose of election. The returning officer shall enter on the nomination paper its serial number and certify the date and hour at which the nomination is received by him and shall immediately give a written acknowledgement for the receipt of the nomination paper which shall bear the seal of the TVC /returning officer. Any nomination paper which is not received on or before the date and time fixed for its receipt shall be rejected.

8. (i) On the day following the date fixed for the receipt of nomination papers, the returning officer shall take up the scrutiny of the nomination papers

(ii) The returning officer shall examine the nomination papers and decide objections, which may be made by any person in respect of any nomination and may, either on such objection, or on his own motion and after such summary inquiry, if any, as the returning officer thinks necessary, reject any nomination: Provided that the nomination of a candidate shall not be rejected merely on the ground of an incorrect description of his name or the name of his proposer or seconder, or any other particulars relating to the candidate or his proposer or seconder, as entered in the list of street vendors referred to in clause 4 if the identity of the candidate, the proposer or seconder, as the case may be, is established beyond reasonable doubt

(iii) the returning officer shall give all reasonable facilities to the contesting candidates or the proposer or seconder as the case may be, to examine all the nomination papers and to satisfy themselves that the inclusion of the name of the contesting candidate is valid.

Any candidate may withdraw his candidature by notice in writing signed by him and submitted in person, at any time after the presentation of his nomination paper but before 5 pm on the day following the day on which the valid nominations are published to the returning officer of the TVC notice of withdrawal of candidates once given shall be irrevocable

11. If the number of candidates who nomination papers have been declared valid, does not exceed the number of candidates to be elected, the returning officer shall announce the names of all such candidates and declare them to have been duly elected to the TVC after the closing hour of the day of withdrawal of candidatures fixed under clause 10 above. If the number of candidates whose nominations are valid exceeds the number to be elected, the returning officer shall arrange for conducting a poll on the date fixed for the purpose. The returning officer may appoint one or more polling officers as may be necessary for conducting the poll

12. The local authority shall provide the returning office with ballot boxes, ballot papers copy of list of street vendors/voters and such other articles as may be necessary for the conduct of elections. The ballot box shall be so constructed that ballot papers can be inserted therein but cannot be taken out there from without the boxes being unlocked.
